FARE REWARD FOR DOMESTIC FLIERS TRAVELLING LIGHT

DGCA separates base fare and service charge, paving the way for concessions to travellers checking in without baggage

PAY ONLY FOR THE SERVICES YOU REQUIRE

Earlier, base fare was bundled with services like preferential seating, meal or drink charges (except water), access to lounge, check-in baggage, sports equipment and music instrument charges, and valuable baggage fee. With its Friday's notification, the DGCA has unbundled base fare and service charges. Now, fliers will get to pay for only those services they opt for

LINKED TO TICKET PRICE CAPPING ORDER

- In January, air travel turned costlier after the fare price bands were hiked by 10%-30%. It was described as an extraordinary but temporary measure to help the sector reach pre-Covid flight level
- The DGCA's notification says the relief will be extended to fliers only when the extraordinary fare order ceases to be applicable

MODEL CODE

The Model Code of Conduct comes into play from the moment the poll schedule is announced. It ends with the declaration of the election outcome

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

THE onset of summer will coincide with soaring political temperatures in the country as four states and a Union Territory will see electoral heat in March-end and April. The Election Commission of India announced the poll schedule for Tamil Nadu, Kerala and Puducherry in the south and West Bengal and Assam in the east, sounding the bugle for the next big battle for states.

The assembly elections in Bengal will be Chief Minister and Trinamool Congress chief Mamata Banerjee's biggest test yet in the face of a saffron onslaught while Assam will see the ruling BJP face a challenge from a plethora of coalitions. Among the two southern states, the Congress nurtures hope of returning to power in Kerala. In TN, the two national parties will piggyback on the local players — Congress on the DMK and BJP on the AIADMK. Puducherry is heading for an interesting fight amid defections from the Congress to the BJP, leading to President's Rule.

CEC Sunil Arora

The BJP, under the leadership of JP Nadda, will seek to assert its status as a pan-India party as it hopes to reap political dividends of the Citizenship Amendment Act in Assam and Bengal. Banking heavily on turncoats from the ranks of the TMC, the BJP is hoping to build on the massive gains it made in Bengal in the 2019 LS poll, bagging 18 seats and over 40% vote share. In Assam, the party, in alliance with regional players, will seek to outsmart the Opposition, while the Congress-AIUDF combine will attempt to consolidate minority votes.

In Kerala, the BJP, which had polled about 15% votes in 2016, will make a pitch to establish itself as the third force. To find a foothold in TN, the party is experimenting with caste equations by promoting Dalit and OBC faces. The Congress, which is grappling with leadership issue and infighting, has grim chances in Bengal, where it's contesting in alliance with the Left, but is looking at making some gains in Assam. But the party's main focus is on Kerala, especially because Rahul Gandhi is MP from Wayanad, though the Left Front's performance in the local body polls is a cause of worry for the Congress-led UDF.

India snaps out of technical recession

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

WITH the economy finally coming out of technical recession, growing marginally at 0.4 per cent in the third quarter of 2020-21, the government on Friday said it expected the GDP to contract by 8 per cent for the whole financial year.

"Real GDP growth of 0.4 per cent in Q3 of 2020-21 has returned the economy to the pre-pandemic times of positive growth rates. It is also a reflection of a further strengthening of V-shaped recovery," read a Finance Ministry statement.

However, in its second advance estimates, the National Statistical Office (NSO) has projected 8 per cent contraction in 2020-21, up from 7.7 per cent predicted on its earlier forecast in January.

Experts claimed that while the growth remained flat, the real recovery will be visible in the final quarter. "My understanding is that the real push will come in the Q4 2021, because lockdowns on many sectors, particularly hospitality and travel, eased substantially during this quarter. It is hoped that it remains that way, given the uptick in Covid-19 cases in some pockets and in some states," said Sanjay Kumar, partner, Deloitte India.

Meanwhile, the output of eight core sectors returned to positive territory, growing marginally by 0.1 per cent in January. P16

CM asks Centre not to allow TN water project, will fight it legally, politically

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Government on Friday reiterated that it will not allow Tamil Nadu's project to use surplus Cauvery water through a river-linking project by building a canal from Cauvery to Vaigai-Gundar, and said it will fight against it legally and politically.

As the project is expected to affect the state's interests, Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa has written to the Central Government asking it not to allow Tamil Nadu to go ahead with the project, Law and Parliamentary Minister Basavaraj Bommai told mediapersons. Earlier, Water Resources Minister Ramesh

Jarkiholi and Bommai held a meeting with legal experts, including Advocate General Prabhuling Navadgi, to discuss the inter-state river water dispute.

Bommai said the TN project to utilize 45 tmcft of water is in violation of Inter-State Water Dispute Act and Karnataka will question it in the court. As per the Act, even surplus water has to be allocated and this has to be decided by the tribunal. Even before that happens, Tamil Nadu has gone ahead with a project that is against Karnataka's interests, the Law Minister said.

The Karnataka Government has decided to implead itself in a case filed by a farmer.

"Individuals cannot file a case in inter-state matters as they do not have any locus standi, and such petitions have been dismissed earlier. They have not made Karnataka a party, but we have decided to implead in that case and present our case before the Madurai bench of the Madras High Court," he said. CONTINUED ON: P6

BORN READY

Perseverance, patience, a clear focus and a dogged pursuit of one's goals...these are the hallmarks of every good leader. But it is when these are combined with a capacity to link politics to people's concerns that one crosses higher thresholds. In B S Yediyurappa, Chief Minister of Karnataka, this capacity can be seen from his early, humble beginnings. From his life, we can see how his connect with the grassroots is not some political artifice or slogan, but an umbilical link.

MISSION 2022

In December 2020, Yediyurappa unveiled Bengaluru Mission 2022 to turn it into a 'world-class city'

COVID-19

In March 2020, his government announced a corpus fund of Rs 200 crores to fight the outbreak fo deadly novel coronavirus. Besides record rain, floods and drought, the centurys most disruptive and dangerous pandemic, Covid-19 posed huge challenges, Yediyurappa said with economic recession, job losses, loss of revenue to the government, and social and economic activities grinding to a halt, people of the state are in distress. "Our government has implemented many schemes and projects to ensure peace, relief and tranquillity in society and help people see a ray of hope in this hour of gloom," he said.

2020

During early March 2020, Yediyurappa presented the budget, It is his seventh budget as the CM.

FEB 2021

Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa assured the Valmiki Nayaka community of increasing the ST quota at the earliest. Addressing the Valmiki Jatre in Rajanahalli village, attended by community leaders Water Resources Minister Ramesh Jarkiholi and Social Welfare Minister B Sriramulu, he said that once the cabinet sub-committee submits the report, he will take an appropriate decision.

IN PURSUIT OF PATHWAYS TO PROGRESS

For 78-year-old Yediyurappa, challenges are not new. Having faced many ups and downs in his political career, he is a man who looks at each day as a new chapter filled with opportunities. While last year was dominated by the woes of the pandemic, this year he has charted out a fresh route towards development

The State Government has already acquired 272 acres of land for toy cluster in and around Talbal village. The SEZ is expected to achieve progress in the next couple of years

— BS Yediyurappa on the Union Buget

WITH an eye towards progress, Yediyurappa recently requested Prime Minister Narendra Modi to declare the Upper Krishna and Upper Bhadra projects in the state as national projects. During the sixth meeting of the Governing Council of the NITI Aayog held virtually, the CM also sought central assistance for a number of projects in the state.

The process of declaring the Upper Bhadra Project as national project has already been initiated and it is likely to be declared soon. Once it is done, the Central Government will provide nearly 90 per cent of funds for the projects.

During the NITI Aayog meeting, the CM also sought approval for six proposals worth Rs 6,673 crore for modernisation of canals and additional grants were also sought for river diversion projects. The State Government also requested the Centre to provide Rs 4,300 crore to create an optical fibre network to provide connectivity to all government offices.

The CM also pitched for setting up a mechanism to fast-track disposal of cases in courts as infrastructure projects are hampered due to litigation and environmental protests. The State also sought financial support to take up initiatives under the National Educational Policy.

While the PM asked the states to focus on ease of doing business as well as on ease of living, he was briefed about initiatives taken by the Karnataka government for industrial development, including affidavit-based clearance system, steps taken to promote exports, MoUs with e-commerce firms like Amazon and Flipkart to boost marketing of local products.

The government also intended to create an online marketing platform for surplus fruits and vegetables, supported by infrastructure facilities, under the Atmanirbhar scheme and a water security plan is being developed in 41 over-exploited taluks under Atal Bahu Jal Yojna. The state also plans to follow NITI Aayog's 49 aspirational indicators to monitor the progress of 114 backward taluks, he added.

Budget a Catalyst

Hailing the Union Budget 2021-22 as a catalyst that can revive the sluggish economy, Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa deemed it a "pro-poor and pro-middle class" budget.

"I strongly believe that the budget will act as a speed booster to the economy which was badly hit due to Covid-19. It is impossible to expect a better budget amidst the pandemic," said Yediyurappa, adding that Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had announced necessary strategies for the revival of the economy and containment of the pandemic.

Even as the budget set aside very little for specific projects for Karnataka, even refusing to include most of the requests submitted in a pre-budget meeting, the BJP government in the State and its leaders were all praise for Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Sitharaman.

"Rs 14,778 crore has been announced for Bengaluru Metro. 58 km of new route can be constructed from this provision. This is the biggest gift to Karnataka from our own Finance Minister," Yediyurappa said.

Karnataka's Money Matters

Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa started his pre-budget meetings with ministers and senior officers early February. He held a series of meetings to discuss subjects related to their departments, that need to be included in the upcoming State budget, being presented amid financial constraints.

Yediyurappa met ministers and officers from the departments of higher education, IT/BT, skill development, revenue, industries, labour and public sector undertaking.

The focus has been on attracting investment and private partnerships to take up development works. With revenue collection not up to expectations this year, it will be a challenge to present a budget which is likely to focus on health, agriculture and infrastructure. As the Union budget lay stress on skill development and agriculture, the Chief Minister is likely to take the cue and present a budget which will supplement the central budget.

The Karnataka State Planning Board had recommended to the State Government to adopt the PPP model to improve education, health, tourism and other sectors.

The government has developed software to implement and coordinate works taken up under the PPP model by companies under their CSR initiative. Yediyurappa is expected to announce schemes and projects with private partnership, to reduce the State's financial burden.

Illegal Mining

In January, following an explosion and loss of lives in a blast at a stone crusher facility at Hunasodu in Shivamogga, Yediyurappa said that those who are running unauthorized mines should apply for regularisation which will be done only if law permits.

Yediyurappa said that he has asked the officials concerned to regularise those mines only if they meet all the legal requirements. If there is unauthorized mining, officials will be held responsible.

"All the illegal miners should stop mining immediately. I have asked the deputy commissioners concerned to ensure that the illegal mining is stopped. Unauthorized miners should apply for regularisation. Officials concerned should conduct spot inspections. I am clarifying in my capacity as a chief minister that if there is no ill impact, then only officials can permit the mining. I want to make it clear that those who are mining illegally should stop the same immediately," he said.

Admitting that illegal mining is going on in many parts of the state, the CM said the illegal mining at Baby Betta in Pandavapura taluk of Mandya district is posing a threat to the KRS dam.

"I have given instruction to stop the same but still some illegal miners have continued the operation. Illegal mining should be stopped everywhere," he said.

The CM said that supply of crushed stone is essential for the development of infrastructure.

"There is no objection to supplying the crushed stones legally. When there was shortage of the crushed stones earlier, we would bring the same from Bengaluru and Mangaluru. If the same problem occurs there will be a burden on the exchequer and development works will also be delayed. Hence, crushed stone is required. But, illegal mining should stop," he said.

Toy Cluster

Yediyurappa laid the foundation stone for the country's first-ever toy cluster at Talbal village in the district in January, with the expectation that some of the units at the cluster would start functioning by the year-end.

"The State Government has already acquired 272 acres of land for the cluster in and around Talbal village. The Special Economic Zone is expected to achieve progress in the next couple of years, and we will invite Prime Minister Narendra Modi to inaugurate the cluster," Yediyurappa said.

The cluster is expected to attract big investments and generate employment to a large number of people in the region. "I will ensure that a few units will start operations by the end of this year," he added.

Yediyurappa also flagged off mobile vans to each of 20 Raita Sampark Kendras (RSKs) under 'Krishi Sanjeevini' scheme of the Agriculture Department in Koppal district. The vans will help farmers with soil and water testing. He also distributed the agriculture department's 'Swabhimani Raita' identity cards to a few farmers. The ID cards contain relevant records of agriculture fields of respective farmers.

Pipeline of Change

The 444-km Kochi-Mangaluru natural gas pipeline, which Prime Minister Narendra Modi commissioned on January 5, would benefit industrial, commercial entities and households in Karnataka's coastal districts of Dakshina Kannada and Udupi, Yediyurappa said.

"The pipeline will benefit hundreds of households, commercial establishments and industries in Dakshina Kannada and Udupi districts, as natural gas is economic, eco-friendly and a clean fuel for use," said Yediyurappa in a statement.

Terming the pipeline dedication to the nation historical, he said the natural gas would cater to the growing demand for eco-friendly fuel by power and fertiliser plants across the state, spur industrial growth, and create hundreds of jobs.

Though the Kochi-Mangaluru pipeline project was launched in 2009, protests and land acquisition for laying the pipes in Kerala delayed it, escalating its cost from the initial cost of Rs 2,915 crore to Rs 5,750 crore.

Call to industries

Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa on Wednesday sought the cooperation of the industry to make Karnataka the top investment destination in the country. The State Government has initiated a number of measures to improve ease of doing business in the state, and industries should help in effective implementation of these measures, he added.

Addressing members of the Federation of Karnataka Chamber of Commerce and Industries (FKCCI), the Chief Minister said that acquiring land to set up industries has become easier after the recent amendments to the Karnataka Land Reforms Act and Karnataka Industrial Facilitation Act has been amended to further improve ease of doing business as industries get three years to get various approvals, he said, and added that the government is also working on making changes in the Labour Act.

Economic activities and supply chain that were hit by the Covid19 pandemic are returning to normal and big industries as well as small and medium scale industries resuming operations under such circumstances is an encouraging development, he said.

Even during these times of distress, Karnataka has attracted 42 per cent of all foreign direct investment (FDI) that has come into the country. Industries should cooperate with the government to ensure that Karnataka will emerge as the number one investment destination in the country, he added.

HIGH COMMAND'S SUPPORT

In January, Union Home Minister Amit Shah had advised Yediyurappa, "You have been given a free hand in governance. Ensure that you take the party along and address concerns that have been raised." Shah, who visited the state at a time when the cabinet expansion had led to an unprecedented public display of anger from BJP MLAs, has put the onus of ensuring peace and harmony between the party and the government on Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa. Sources in the BJP had said that Shah asked state-unit senior leaders to ensure dissent is not voiced in public and to reign in antics of open criticisms. With the support from Shah, Yediyurappa has been entrusted with controlling dissidence in the party and taking strict action against those who indulge in anti-party activities.

Industrial Policy 2020-25: All About High-Tech Investments, Job Creation & Dollops of Ambition

In July 2020, the Karnataka Cabinet had approved a new Industrial Policy which increases the cap on quarterly overtime for labourers, under the Factories Act, 1948, to 125 hours from the existing 75 hours. Women workers can also be deployed on night shifts.

In a separate amendment to the Small Factories (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Services) Bill, 2014, the cabinet exempted MSMEs with up to 20 employees from compliance. Focused on attracting investments of up to Rs 5 lakh crore and creating 20 lakh jobs over the next five years, the cabinet on Thursday approved its New Industrial Policy 2020-2025.

The new policy aims to incentivise high tech investments, boosts the creation of local jobs and seeks to move industrial and technology hubs beyond the city of Bengaluru. This New Policy shall be applicable from 13 August 2020 for a period of five years or until a New policy is announced.

Objectives

- It intends to promote the development of tier-2 and tier-3 cities in the State of Karnataka.
- The New Policy intends to attract investments worth INR 5 lakh crore and create 2m jobs.
- It aims to maintain a yearly growth of 10% each year and to achieve the third position in merchandise exports in the next five years.

The industrially backward districts come under Zone-1 and Zone-2, while more industrially developed districts are classified under Zone-3 and Zone-4. Incentives will be rolled out to direct greater investment to the industrially backward districts.
- The New Policy aims to enact the Special Investment Region (SIR) Act to create, operate and regulate such investment regions in the State. SIRs would have an area of about 100 sq. km and be categorised as industrial townships. The first such region or SIR will encompass the Dharwad, Gadag, Haveri, and Belagavi districts of Karnataka. Other SIRs that are being planned include Shivamogga, Davanagere, Chitradurga and Chickamagaluru districts as well as Kalaburagi, which is in the Kalyana Karnataka district.

The pedestal where the bust of MLA Haris was earlier placed in Shanthi Nagar, Bengaluru. It was removed later on Friday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

Busted! Haris' statue removed after hue and cry

Netizens slam MLA after news went viral

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THIS legislator's attempts at self-aggrandisement went "bust" after netizens slammed him, forcing him to make amends. The MLA from Congress, N A Haris, who represents the Shanthinagar constituency, courted a controversy after his bust was put up at a junction that was also named after him. Once it went viral, with netizens criticising the move, the bust was removed.

The statue had been put up in front of Infant Jesus Church at Shanthinagar, and the pedestal had 'NA Haris Circle' inscribed on it. The names of Haris and his son Muhammad Nalpad too were mentioned, while a flex banner was put up near Anepalya, announcing the inauguration of Haris Circle.

It was in violation of the Karnataka Municipal Corporation (KMC) Act, which states that any public property, including roads, junctions, circles, flyovers or underpasses, can be named after a proposal is placed before the BBMP Council. Once it is approved, it is sent to the urban development department for final approval. In the absence of a Council, it had to be placed before the BBMP administrator which was not done. Also, the Act specifies that no road or public property can be named after a living person.

"This is a clear violation of the KMC Act. We will take this to the party high command," said a senior Congress leader.

Though the bust was removed, the pedestal still exists, with Haris Circle written on it.

Recently, Haris was also slammed for opposing the installation of Kannada thespian Rajkumar's statue in his constituency. Despite repeated attempts, the MLA couldn't be reached for comments.

Mercury rises, IMD forecasts extreme dry weather

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE mercury level in Bengaluru and most parts of Karnataka is on the rise. But there is no respite as it will continue to be an extremely dry weather for the next few days, which will be followed by thundershowers, says the weatherman.

After the sudden and unseasonal rainfall and hailstorm last week, Bengaluru and most parts of Karnataka have been experiencing a gradual rise in temperature. The India Meteorological Department (IMD) has forecast a rise in maximum and minimum temperatures for some days. According to IMD-Bengaluru, the maximum temperature at 8.30 am on Friday was 33 degrees Celsius and the minimum 18.7 degrees Celsius. At 5.30 pm, the maximum and minimum temperatures were 34.1° and 18.4° Celsius.

IMD-Bengaluru director-in-charge Geeta Agnihotri said the weather is extremely dry at the moment and a forecast of gradual rise in temperature for the next five days has been issued.

"After this, due to the formation of a system over south west Bay of Bengal, there is a possibility of rain. The forecast issued is of a maximum temperature of 32-34 degrees Celsius for the next five days," she added.

IMD-Bengaluru director-in-charge C S Patil said it is the onset of summer and with the gradual rise in temperatures, the pre-monsoon showers will also be early.

Citizens are feeling the heat because there is no moisture in the air and the minimum temperature is rising. The formation of fog will also gradually come down. In Bengaluru, the maximum temperature could go up to 37 degrees Celsius, while in Kalaburagi and other parts of North Karnataka, it could be above 40 degrees Celsius.

Help desks, online portal to help Shivaram Karanth site owners

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A three-member committee appointed by the Supreme Court is setting up five help desks and a portal to identify buildings in the proposed Dr K Shivram Karanth Layout.

The apex court had appointed former High Court judge Justice A V Chandrashekhar, former DG&IGP S T Ramesh and former BDA Commissioner Jayakar Jerome to identify owners of buildings that came up in the layout till August 3, 2018.

Justice Chandrashekhar told the media on Friday that the help desks would be set up at Community Hall at Somashettihalli, Government School at Bylakere, Dr Ambedkar Community Hall at Singanayakanahalli, Government Urdu Primary School at Medi Agrahara in Vaderahalli Panchayat and the BDA Head Office in Kumara Park West.

"The help desk at the Urdu Primary School will be opened on Monday.

The other centres are likely to be set up in 8-10 days. The idea is to ensure that people spread in 17 villages in the notified areas where where this layout will come up can easily furnish details of their houses. Satellite imagery reveals that 7,500 buildings have come up between 2008 and 2018. We have also launched an online portal jcc-skl.in for the public to upload their official documents for review," he said.

The committee has hired 13 retired employees from the BDA, the judiciary and the police to help the committee function smoothly. Forty-two students of CMR Law College will volunteer with the committee.

The layout proposed in 2008 on 3,546 acres and 12 guntas of land was to be BDA's second-biggest after the Kempegowda Layout. It was to have 18,975 sites in 17 villages between Doddaballapur and Hesaraghatta, BDA records show.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

27th February: Partners may have been behaving out of character, though not for the first time. You may decide that someone is bluffing, and you could well be right. However, the question you must now face is whether you are prepared to do anything about it. In other words, are you happy to wait until the dust settles and make your move in a few weeks' time?

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
A sudden change in your stars, towards an alignment which is very much more relaxed and supportive, should come at exactly the right moment to help you begin your life anew. Astrologically, the rest of your life begins here! I can't say fairer than that!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You are not regarded as a natural nomad, but one way or another your stars do seem to be rather unsettling. So, although today's planets favour a domesticated life, do what you can to make your home that much more colourful! Keep busy but don't let partners exploit your goodwill.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
It may come as a surprise to you that the sign of the zodiac responsible for your legendary talkativeness, is Leo. That is why your current colourful planets are trying to tell you to get out and meet as many people as you possibly can, as soon as you can.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Take as much time and expend as much effort as is necessary to repair a damaged relationship. Even if a personal rupture seems to be for the good, don't imagine for one moment that it is all done and finished with! Whatever happens now could take a new twist in three months' time.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
As if by magic, the Moon comes to your rescue, helping you make up your mind. This happens once a month, but this time around the change in your mood could be quite dramatic and, over the next few days, you could experience a sudden surge of confidence and optimism.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
After a brief social spell you may be ready to spend a little time by yourself. Actually, it will be a good idea to recharge your emotional batteries ready for what should be a fine start to the coming week. If you're keeping a secret, you may blurt it out tomorrow.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
One thing you can say about the recent past is that at least your skills in crisis management have been refined and, in some cases, wrought to perfection. Now you may relax and enjoy any pleasant social encounters conferred by the Moon in friendly regions of your chart.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Play to win today. There can be no coming second place, whether your goals are professional, financial or romantic. At the very least you should aim to exceed your own personal best. Some people say that it's more important to compete than come top, but you could still do with some extra applause!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Today's energetic Moon is just the ingredient required to make the whole world seem a much more compatible place. After today, you should begin to feel more comfortable with the direction that life, especially on the personal level, is going.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
The fact that there is so little new taking place in your chart today should come as a relief, for you should be able to begin to digest the many lessons still to be learnt from recent upsets and opportunities. The next two months, by the way, present extraordinarily good opportunities in all areas. Couldn't be better!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Listen very carefully indeed to partners' little words of wisdom. They may be critical, but the fact is that you stand in need of truthful comment about what you are doing wrong - as well as praise for what you are doing right. You may even soon have cause to thank a rival!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Turn to favourite interests which you have either ignored for too long, or even completely abandoned. You may have been too bound up with other people's problems recently, and it could be very valuable indeed to focus once more on what is important to you, rather than to what makes sense to them.

CEC HINTS AT 3 ASSEMBLY BYPOLLS BEFORE MAY 2

It could be to allow the BJP government in State to make budget announcements targeted at election-bound seats, feel political analysts

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

THE much-awaited schedule for the by-elections to the three Assembly constituencies of Maski, Basavakalyan and Sindagi were not officially announced on Friday, but Chief Election Commissioner Sunil Arora's announcement that the results of all the polls, which could mean including the bypolls in Karnataka, will be out on May 2 gives everyone the hope that these bypolls too would be held before that date. Elections have to be conducted within six months of a seat falling vacant, and Maski and Basavkalyan are close to reaching that limit.

With Arora stating that the Belgaum parliamentary bypoll will be held along with Tirupathi on April 6, there is an expectation that all the three Assembly bypolls too would be held on that day. He did not specifically announce the schedule for Karnataka, but merely said it will be out in a separate notification later.

Analysts wondered if this gives the BJP an advantage in Karnataka as it gives the party-ruled government an opportunity to make poll-targeted announcements in the budget on March 8. The delay could also be a ploy as once the poll dates are out, the model code of conduct would kick in, preventing the government from coming out with schemes for these poll-bound constituencies, they pointed out.

One analyst said that when 15 constituencies faced bypolls in December, the BJP had the advantage of knowing when they would be conducted.

Sindagi in Vijayapura district is facing the bypoll as MLA MC Managuli of JDS passed away recently due to Covid; at Maski, incumbent legislator Prathapgouda Patil moved out of the Congress to join BJP and in Basavakalyan (Bidar) Congress MLA Narayan Rao passed away in September.

No one in Congress, JDS happy after alliance for Mysuru mayoral election

Siddu upset with local MLA Sait; HDK wanted to maintain equidistance from Cong, BJP

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

THERE are no happy faces in Congress and JDS, which had entered into an alliance for the mayoral election to stop BJP from coming to power at the Mysuru City Corporation, as the tie-up has intensified factionalism within both parties.

The simmering differences between CLP leader Siddaramaiah and KPCC president D K Shiva Kumar has come to the fore ahead of the planned padayatras in constituencies that do not have Congress MLAs and by-elections to three Assembly and one Lok Sabha seat.

An upset Siddaramaiah has openly expressed his displeasure over not keeping him informed about entering into an alliance with JDS and settling for the deputy mayor's post. The Ahinda leader had advised the party corporators and local leaders not to settle for anything less than the mayor's post as agreed between the two parties when they were in alliance during the previous term at the corporation. But KPCC working president R Dhruvanarayan, MLA Tanveer Sait, ex-mayors Ayub Khan, Arif Hussian and others held talks with JDS leaders Abdulla, Ravi, Chaluve Gowda and others and bargained for the mayor's post. When JDS did not budge and the power pendulum was tilting towards BJP, Congress leaders talked to Shivakumar at the last minute and settled for the deputy mayor's post. Felt letdown in his own home turf, Siddaramaiah is now said to have asked the KPCC to serve a notice to Tanveer Sait. Other Congress leaders too have questioned the decision to hand over the mayor's post to JDS.

Party sources asked why only Sait should be targeted when all party corporators were party to the decision. "Sait and Dhruvnarayan updated Shivakumar. The communication gap between Shivakumar and Siddaramaiah only added to the confusion," they said.

In JDS, former CM H D Kumaraswamy and Sa Ra Mahesh are said to be unhappy with the alliance. Kumaraswamy wanted to maintain equidistance between Congress and BJP to prove to the people that the party has its own individual, regional identity. Congress sources said the developments could bring factionalism within the party to the fore ahead of the padayatras and bypolls. Shivakumar and other seniors will find it difficult to pacify Siddaramaiah and his supporters to put up a united front, they said.

> I have nothing personal. I decided in the interest of the party in the presence of KPCC working president R Dhruvanarayan. Party leaders had directed us to be firm on the mayor post, but the last-minute developments forced us to compromise in the larger interest of the party. I am ready to reply to the show-cause notice from the party. I will not become the victim of a few egoists
> —Tanveer Sait, Congress MLA

> JDS failed to honour the agreement made in 2018 and tried to stitch an alliance with BJP. JDS does not have any principles nor it is secular anymore as they are ready to join hands with the communal party at the drop of the hat

Newly-elected Mayor B G Krishnappa (BJP) and his deputy Nazeema Bi (JDS) celebrate their victory in Tumakuru on Friday | EXPRESS PHOTO

ST quota helps BJP win Tumakuru mayor post

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Tumakuru

THE Tumakuru mayoral elections on Friday caused more heartburn for the Congress in the Old Mysore region as the party failed to bag the mayor or the deputy mayor posts.

The lone nominee from BJP, B G Krishnappa, was chosen as the mayor, while Nazeema Bi of JDS was elected his deputy unopposed.

Earlier this week, Congress had suffered a setback after it had to settle for the deputy mayor's post in the Mysuru City Corporation.

With the mayor's post in Tumakuru reserved for ST category, both JDS and Congress — who were in alliance — could not bag the top post as they did not have an eligible candidate.

While the outgoing mayor belonged to Congress, the deputy mayor was from JDS. Both the parties had moved the High Court as the mayor's post was reserved for ST category for the second time in four years. But, the HC gave its nod for the reservation.

In the 35-member corporation, the BJP has 12 members, Congress and JDS 10 each, while three are Independents. BJP has two more votes of an MLA and MP.

In the zilla panchayat polls, JDS bagged the president's post, while the BJP candidate was elected vice-president.

In the 2018 Assembly polls, Congress was pushed to the third spot in Tumakuru city with JDS coming a close second to BJP.

"The trend may continue as Congress has lost steam... JDS may gain momentum as an alternative to BJP," observed Puttalinagaiah, an analyst.

Cabinet meet may announce goodies for bypoll seats

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A day before the Karnataka legislature meets for the Budget session, the B S Yediyurappa cabinet will meet at 2 pm on March 3. It is expected that the cabinet could announce packages for Maski, Basavakalyan and Sindagi Assembly constituencies, ahead of the announcement of the bypolls by the Election Commission of India.

The chief minister has already announced the construction of the Anubhava Mantapa at Basavakalyan, which is expected to be a game-changer for the BJP in the Congress stronghold. The bypoll has been necessitated due to the death of Congress MLA Narayan Rao.

The cabinet could also make announcements for the other two constituencies, especially Maski, where Prathapgouda Patil switched sides from Congress to BJP, and Sindagi where JDS MLA M C Managuli passed away.

In all the three constituencies, non-BJP candidates had won in 2018 and the BJP is not taking any chances.

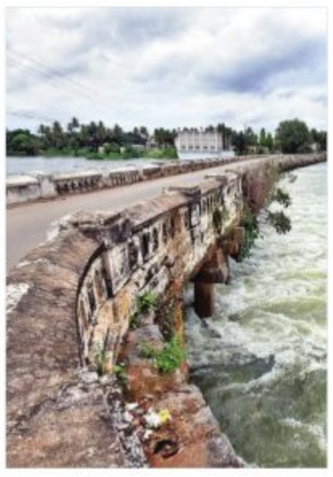
The chief minister has also already announced the setting up of the Maratha Development Corporation which could help the party in Basavakalyan and also the Belgaum parliamentary seat where there are a sizeable number of Marathi-speaking voters.

BSY to have low-key birthday celebrations

ENS @Bengaluru

WHILE there will be no official celebrations for CM BS Yediyurappa's birthday this time due to Covid, fans and supporters are expected to troop into his official quarters with cakes, bouquets, garlands and shawls.

Yediyurappa celebrates his 78th birthday on Saturday and will remain at Kaveri, his official residence where his colleagues, MLAs, MLCs and BJP office-bearers are expected to visit. The police have made arrangements as large crowds are expected. Yediyurappa has not put out any statement urging fans not to come, like some politicians, had done recently. Yediyurappa's son B Y Raghavendra, an MP from Shivamogga, said, "We are organising celebrations in Shivamogga on Sunday and March 1. Special poojas will be performed at temples in Ravindra Nagar and Shikaripura on Saturday." An early sleeper and early riser, Yediyurappa will not have midnight celebrations. He visited the nearby Radhakrishna temple for his birthday last year, but because of Covid it is not clear whether he will do so this time.



State's legal team will oppose TN move: Minister

"THE state's legal team will also oppose it strongly if and when it comes up before the Supreme Court," Law Minister Basavaraj Bommai stressed, indicating that the state is prepared for the long haul.

The minister said TN has been opposing any project taken up by Karnataka, even to modernize 300-year-old dams that are in a bad shape, besides also opposing the allocation of drinking water for Bengaluru.

Elections or political developments in Tamil Nadu have nothing to do with it and protecting the state's interest is important for the government, Bommai said while responding to a question on whether the Centre was supporting Tamil Nadu, keeping the Assembly elections in mind. "We have decided to fight it legally and politically," Jarkiholi added.

Bommai and Jarkiholi said the government will take all measures to protect the state's interests in all inter-state river water disputes.

The ministers and officials also discussed steps needed to be taken on the Mahadayi project issue. The Supreme Court recently directed Karnataka, Maharashtra and Goa to conduct a joint inspection of the project site in Karnataka.

On the Mahadayi project, Bommai said Karnataka had not diverted water as alleged by Goa. "We are following the tribunal's order and there is no diversion or breach and we are ready for their inspection. But, Goa is misusing the legal system to delay the Kalasa-Banduri project. We have decided not to give scope for that," he said.

Based on the Goa government's petition, the Supreme Court directed a joint inspection by all the three states to check if water is being diverted, as alleged by Goa.

Yediyurappa, mass leader par excellence with concern for people's welfare

Born in an ordinary family with humble economic backgrounds and with no 'politically illustrious' names among his kin, Bookanakere Siddalingappa Yediyurappa has evolved as a popular leader on the basis of his sheer perseverance, zealous efforts, untiring hard work and genuine commitment and concern for the common man.

As described by his close friends, party leaders and workers, he is proactive 24x7. He is indeed a genuine people's leader in the real sense of the word. It is only because of Yediyurappa's meticulous planning, approach and sincere efforts that BJP in Karnataka evolved as a 'cadre-based mass party' and has come to power with him as chief minister.

He ensured that the party is strengthened, geographically and socially. It is the result of his untiring efforts that BJP – which was once dismissed as urban-based, intellectually-confined, upper-caste North-Indian Party – came to power twice by drawing strength from all section of society, especially farmers. There are many leaders in Karnataka BJP, but for all of us, the way shown by Yediyurappa is the model.

BJP came into existence on April 6, 1980. We came to power for the first time in 2008. For these 28 years, we expanded our electoral base, strengthened the party at various rungs of social setup, enthused our cadre and took up people's issues to carve a niche for ourselves.

Yediyurappa's firm conviction was that BJP should maintain equidistance from both Congress and Janata Parivar in the tri-polar polity in Karnataka. He ensured that BJP takes up people's issues and fight the elections without having any truck with any party, except in 1999.

I can assert that BJP's victory in 2008 and 2018 is not a mere fluke. The victory is due to the service and sacrifice of lakhs of workers and thousands of leaders since the days of Jana Sangh and Yediyurappa continued that tradition of struggling for the people's cause.

All the leaders at the national level have been observing the manner in which Yediyurappa has enabled BJP to come to power in Karnataka. We are all immensely impressed by his inputs to strengthen the party when he was working as the national vice-president of the party. I am fortunate to have worked with him closely during that tenure.

ARUN SINGH, MP (Rajya Sabha)

National BJP General Secretary (In-Charge of Karnataka)

I was appointed as prabhari (in-charge) of Karnataka by the party's central leadership. I got an opportunity to closely observe how Yediyurappa handled organisational and governmental matters in a professional and deft manner.

India and the world faced an unprecedented crisis in the form of Covid. Karnataka did exceptionally well in handling the crisis under the dynamic and robust leadership of Yediyurappa.

It was Yediyurappa who decided to announce lockdown of all cinema theatres, malls, shopping complex as a first step in our fight against coronavirus. He thought of ways to fight the virus and galvanised the official machinery up to hobli level, planned meticulously and enthused the party cadre to supplement the government's efforts.

Yediyurappa showed political acumen and magnanimity when several MLAs from Congress and JDS decided to quit their respective parties by admitting them to BJP by taking the Central leadership into confidence. The fine balance he has struck in managing the needs of the newcomers and old-timers shows his sense of professionalism and fair approach.

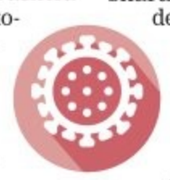
February 27 is Yediyurappa's birthday. As he has said earlier, he is determined to bring BJP back to power in 2023 Assembly elections with not less than 150 seats. I am confident that this is going to become a reality. BJP will return to power solely because of a positive vote on account of remarkable performance of the government.

Clusters reported in 2 colleges, apartment in Yelahanka zone

28 people test positive, Kerala students not checked at border

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THREE clusters have emerged in Yelahanka zone after people returning from Kerala and Maharashtra reported Covid positive. A total of 28 cases have been reported from two colleges and an apartment.



A Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike official said that the cases at Agraghami College and Sambharam Academy of Management Sciences were detected when the colleges tested students who returned from Kerala.

"In both colleges, students had come from Kerala recently, but were not checked at the borders. Since the college made it mandatory, some students tested positive at Agraghami College on February 23. At Sambharam college, the first case was detected on February 22. We are testing all the students and staff of the college," said the health official from Yelahanka.

Five of 266 people from Agraghami college have tested positive. Three of the students' primary and secondary contacts too had contracted the infection. They have been admitted to Yelahanka General Hospital.

Nine students of Sambharam college and six of their primary contacts have tested positive. In all, 1,156 people were tested at the college. Most of the students are under home isolation. "Students living PG accommodation have been asked to isolate. We are monitoring them," the official said.

A 50-year-old man who returned from Mumbai to Purva Venezia Apartment at Yelahanka tested positive. His in-laws, who live in the same apartment complex, also tested positive. "He was planning to return, but got himself checked and was found positive. His primary contacts have been tested. Three have been admitted to hospital and others are under home isolation," a health official said.

Vaccination of the elderly and people with comorbidities is set to begin on March 1 | EXPRESS

Many challenges in vaccine process yet to be addressed: Experts

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

ALTHOUGH the vaccination of people aged above 60 and those over 45 with comorbidities is set to begin in two days on March 1 several challenges are yet to be addressed.

One of the biggest challenges is ensuring that all people aged 45 and above with comorbidities are covered. However, data on the comorbidities that people suffer isn't readily available in most states, said Dr Giridhara Babu, epidemiologist and member of the state's Covid Technical Advisory Committee.

"A lot of time has been spent on deciding which comorbidities must be factored in, but little has been done to identify people with these comorbidities," he said.

Identifying them is hard because most Indians do not know if they have comorbidities, he added. Giving an example, he said, "A study done by Prof GVS Murthy and others found that nearly 50 per cent of people who had type 2 diabetes mellitus had become blind by the time they found out that they had it."

Experts fear that many people could be left out because they are not diagnosed, don't have access to the health system, or lack the access to register for jab.

Planning and logistics

Dr Babu added that with the inoculation for polio, measles and rubella, the approach to micro-planning was a bottom-up one through door-to-door survey which was used to plan the programme in a decentralised manner. "But with Covid, we are using a top-down approach and relying on an untested, unreliable software," Dr Babu said.

CHALLENGES

- No data on people with comorbidities
- People themselves unaware of comorbidities
- Top-down approach replaced by bottom-up strategy
- Vaccine availability

Comprehensive surveys should have guided the micro-planning for vaccination sessions for people with comorbidities. "In the absence of detailed data, the coverage of people with comorbidities is going to be incomplete. The list of the elderly might be available from the voter list but not phone numbers. I am not sure how they are going to integrate this data with the CoWin app," he said.

Director of Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Diseases, Dr Manjunath C N, however, said the Centre has data on non-communicable diseases which can be used.

Dr Anant Bhan, bioethics researcher, said the Union Health Ministry must release guidelines on the list of comorbidities and who qualifies for them, the required documentation, etc. Other challenges would include minimisation of platform-related issues, working with a diversity of vaccine delivery points, keeping track of adverse events, he said.

While some experts have called for doing away with pre-registration, Dr Bhan said, "We need a platform to collate information. Issues with the platform should have been fixed before expansion of immunisation."

Issue licence to tobacco vendors: NLSIU report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

ADOPTING a licensing system for the sale of cigarettes, bidis and chewing tobacco products will regulate their accessibility and facilitate effective enforcement of tobacco control laws and policies, recommended the National Law School of India University.

In a report submitted to the Union Health Ministry on February 25, the premier institution recommended that retailers and wholesalers should a licence to sell tobacco products which will help protect people from becoming addicted to tobacco products.

Titled "Framework for Implementation of Tobacco Vendor Licensing in India", the report put forward a model vendor licensing framework and said that licensing sellers is critical to regulate accessibility to tobacco products.

The report, released by the Chair on Consumer Law and Practice, examined the practice and procedure on vendor licensing adopted by various states and cities in India.

"The harmful effects of tobacco use are well-established and accepted globally. Through this report, NLSIU has recommended a model legal framework for sale of tobacco products through licensed vendors based on the existing law and global best practices. We hope that state and municipal governments will consider these recommendations to safeguard Indians, especially children and youth, from these killer products," said Prof Dr Ashok R Patil, Professor of Law and Research Head, NLSIU, the Chair on Consumer Law and Practice, Bengaluru.

Convenor of Anti Tobacco Forum (Mysuru), Vasanthkumar Mysoremath said "It is imperative to make tobacco products inaccessible to youth and children to save them from misery and suffering."

Recommendations

- Vendors must have licences to be renewed annually
- Licences should non-assignable, non-transferrable
- Licences to be given only to vendors selling tobacco products exclusively
- Vendors must not be permitted to sell non-tobacco products
- Violations must be penalised by fine, suspension of licences, and eventually by licence cancellation

Doctors save leg of boy with bone cancer

RANJANI MADHAVAN @Bengaluru

A 13-year-old boy from Kolkata, who was bedridden for the last two months and in severe pain, was on the verge of losing his left limb to amputation because of bone cancer.

Osteosarcoma is one of the most common primary malignant bone cancers among children and young adolescents, accounting for 5 per cent of all paediatric malignancy. However, in the boy's case, the cancer was aggressive and the bone was in a far worse condition than seen usually.

"He came in with a swelling in the lower thigh. The cancer had eaten up three-fourths of the femur bone. We had warned the parents of a fracture and just before chemotherapy began, the bone snapped. We thought the outcome would not be good. In 90-95 per cent of cases we save the limb, but here it was alarming and we felt we may have to amputate," said Dr Srimanth B S, orthopaedic and onco-surgery consultant at Manipal Hospitals.

To doctors' surprise, he responded to chemotherapy and the cancer did not spread. Because of the delay in bringing the child to doctors, a trend they are observing in cases of bone cancer patients since the pandemic began, none of usual techniques of prosthesis or recycling of the bone could be used to save the limb.

"We innovated an inexpensive reconstruction that was done using a combination of nail, plate, screws and cement that joined the bone of the boy's hip and knee bone. It was the need of the hour. He walked the very next day and it was rewarding for us. The surgery took place a month ago and follow-up sessions with physiotherapy are on," Dr Srimanth said, adding that the boy is on his feet but uses an assistive device now, which will not be required 6-8 weeks from date of surgery.

The hospital said the boy's case is a good example. If consulted earlier, 3-4 months of confinement to bed, movement restrictions, and fracture with pain and discomfort could have been avoided.

Disha to stay back in Delhi for 2 weeks

Climate activist has been instructed not to speak to media till the disposal of the case, says lawyer

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

CLIMATE activist Disha Ravi will continue to stay in Delhi for the next two weeks. "Disha will be in Delhi for the next 15 days. She may be called by the Delhi police anytime for further questioning. She will be back only after that," explained Prasanna R, one of Disha Ravi's lawyer and family friend.

Disha was charged with sedition after being arrested on February 13 in connection with a "toolkit" case relating to the farmers' protest and was granted bail on Tuesday. Prasanna said the legalities have been completed, but she may have to assist the Delhi police and also her legal team, and hence she has been asked to stay back.

According to Prasanna, Disha has been strictly instructed not to speak to the media till the disposal of the case. "We don't want any kind of complication and there are strict instructions from her lawyers that she should not speak to the media till the case is disposed of," Prasanna added.

Speaking to TNIE, Disha's distraught mother Manjula said, "We will have to wait for another 15 days to meet her. I am not very sure of what the actual reasons are, but we have been told that she will be back home only after two weeks."

Manjula is still anxious about her daughter, but says she is very proud of her daughter and that justice would be done to her. "My daughter has done no wrong, I know. Getting bail in this case itself proves it. I am sure all this will be over soon," she said.

After Disha's arrest, many other climate activists have remained mum on the issue. Speaking to TNIE, a young climate activist said, "Right now, we don't want to speak anything. We feel that the police can come after any of us."

However, B T Venkatesh, senior advocate and founder of ReachLawyer, a network of human rights advocates, said, "Bail being granted to young activists like Disha and Noudeep Kaur shows that the government cannot silence dissent. Youngsters must definitely speak out and not fear anything or anyone. Revolution doesn't happen when people are silent."

B'luru trust to launch new science journal tomorrow

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

IN a first for researchers, 'Science for Inclusive and Integrated Development Trust (SIID)', a public interest charitable trust registered in Bengaluru, is launching a multi-disciplinary science journal, 'Frontiers in Science, Technology and Application' (http://scfrontiers.com) on 'National Science Day' (February 28) at the National Institute of Advanced Studies (NIAS).

What makes this journal unique is that it is free for researchers from across the world, who may want their papers to be published and the review time will be comparably faster to ensure relevance of research and protection of intellectual property rights (IPR).

"The objective behind this journal is to promote knowledge without boundaries. We will not charge researchers who don't have any institutional support for their publication. Publication charges and Article Processing Fee (APF) in eminent international research journals are huge. This is one of the main reasons why many bright researchers from poorer and emerging economies are unable to get their papers published," said Dr Prashant Goswami, chairman, SIID and former director, CSIR National Institute of Science, Technology and Development Studies.

"There will be no compromise on the quality and content of the journal. We have an international multidisciplinary editorial board of 41 renowned scientists and will uphold global standards of editorial screening, peer review and quick review time to ensure relevance of research," he added. "The journal will accept hypothesis and concept as a research submission to provide protection of intellectual ideas. It will have a provision to host abstracts of under-review submission to protect intellectual rights. It will also maintain strict quality control through anti-plagiarism checks and multi-stage review," said Goswami.

> The objective behind this journal is to promote knowledge without boundaries.
> Dr Prashant Goswami, chairman, SIID

He added that the need to launch a multi-disciplinary science journal came from the fact that scientific publications are important national assets in many aspects — from intellectual property and science diplomacy to the national knowledge profile and capital. "Unfortunately, India still does not have a research journal with an impact factor anywhere near the reputed multi-disciplinary research journals, let alone in subject journals," he said.

The journal will be formally launched through a hybrid function in the presence of eminent scientists and members of academia. It will be chaired by Prof V S Ramamurthy, scientist emeritus at NIAS, and former secretary, Department of Science and Technology. Former director, NIMHANS, Prof B N Gangadhar, will be the chief guest.

'Policy on illegal religious structures to be evolved'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE BBMP on Friday informed the Karnataka High Court that a comprehensive policy for removal or relocation or regularisation of illegal religious structures, constructed prior to September 29, 2009, on public streets, parks and other public places, is to be evolved by the government.

In a compliance report and action plan submitted before the division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum for implementation of the directives issued by the Supreme Court and HC, BBMP Commissioner N Manjunatha Prasad said that while submitting information to the government, the zonal commissioners should keep in mind that there cannot be a rational policy of regularising all the illegal religious structures constructed on public streets, parks, etc, prior to September 29, 2009. Further, he stated there can be policy to "relocate" the structures. In this context, an exercise is to be undertaken by the zonal commissioners to decide whether the structures can be "tolerated" or whether the same is to be "relocated" or "removed".

Taking note of the BBMP's compliance report, the court ordered it to submit details of action taken on the next date of hearing.

EC SETS BALL ROLLING: POLL RACE BEGINS IN 2 STATES, 1 UT

Single phase election in Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Puducherry on April 6; hours ahead of model code of conduct being imposed, TN okays 10.5% reservation

Vanniyar quota Bill passed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

IN a significant move hours ahead of the model code of conduct coming into force, the AIADMK government passed a Bill temporarily granting an internal reservation of 10.5 per cent to Vanniyar community in the State under the Most Backward Classes (V) category. The ruling party's ally PMK had been leading protests seeking exclusive quota for the community. The Bill provides special reservation of seats for members of the Vanniyakula Kshatriya (the common name of the community) in educational institutions, including private educational institutions, in State appointments or posts in the services under the State, in Tamil Nadu within the 20 per cent reservation for Most Backward Classes and Denotified communities.

PMK founder S Ramadoss, who had been raising the demand for nearly three decades, telephoned Palaniswami and he thanked him for acceding to the demand. Introducing the Bill in the Assembly, Palaniswami had noted that there had been consistent demands from the Most Backward Class of Vanniyakula Kshatriya to provide a separatereservation.

He said that under the Tamil Nadu Backward Classes, Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (Reservation of seats in educational institutions and of appointments or posts in services under the State) Act of 1993 (Tamil Nadu Act of 45 of 1994), these communities were availing a reservation of 30 and 20 per cent, respectively in education and State government jobs.

"The government has decided to accept the commission's recommendation and implement the reservation policy accordingly. The internal reservation has been offered temporarily and work has commenced to conduct a caste-wise census within six months," Palaniswami said.

LDF, UDF confident of winning, BJP to be a force to reckon with

ANIL S @T'Puram

WITH just 38 days remaining for the assembly elections that may script history in Kerala's bipolar politics, both the ruling LDF and Opposition UDF have exuded confidence. Meanwhile, BJP, which opened its account for the first time in 2016, hopes to better its performance.

Fresh from a resounding victory in the recent local body polls, the Left is confident of continuing in office which, if it happens, would be a first for a ruling front in the state's political history. With a slew of controversies fresh and alive in the state's political memory -- especially the deep-sea fishing deal and backdoor appointment charges -- the UDF hopes to cash in on the same. The BJP vows to be a force to reckon with this time around.

Contrary to its usual practice of dilly-dallying, UDF has been pushing ahead in full throttle. No sooner than the elections were announced on Friday, a confident UDF leadership made it clear that the front is fully geared up to face the polls. Expressing confidence that UDF will come to power, Opposition leader Ramesh Chennithala announced that seat-sharing in the front would be finalised by Monday.

"The talks are currently in the final phase. We will announce seats for allies by March 3. The final draft of our poll manifesto too will be ready by then," said Chennithala. While KPCC chief Mullappally Ramachandran said candidate selection in Congress is also in the final stage, IUML leader P K Kunhalikutty expressed confidence that UDF would win more than 90 seats.

Banking on the development and welfare initiatives in the last five years, LDF too is confident of retaining power. The Left has great chances of continuing in power, said LDF convener A Vijayaraghavan, who added that the five-year rule of the Pinarayi government would be the biggest asset for the front, while going to the polls.

Faced with an arduous task of improving its tally, BJP would be the party to watch for. Under pressure from its central leadership, the saffron party will have to make its presence felt loud and clear this time. Contrary to the usual spoiler effect, BJP aims to be a force to reckon with. Senior leader and Union minister V Muraleedharan has already stated that BJP would be a decisive force in this election.

Karnataka 2nd in country in offering postal services

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

IN a little over two months following the launch of customer services through post offices, Karnataka has earned the distinction of being the second highest in the country in terms of transactions and revenue collection.

Based on an MoU with Common Services Centre, a special purpose vehicle of the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology, Citizen Service Centres (CSCs) were set up at 851 of 1,701 post offices in the State since December 15 last year.

Through these CSCs, citizens can avail several Business to Customer (B2C) and Government to Citizen services (G2C). B2C services include mobile recharge, payment of water, gas and electricity bills, insurance renewal, EMI payments, flight, train and bus , etc. G2C services include Pradhan Mantri Street Vendors Atmanirbhar Nidhi Yojana, Pradhan Mantri Jan Aroygya Yojana, National Pension Scheme, PAN Card, e-stamping services and Jeevan Pramaan Patra (digital life certificate), etc.

V Tara, Assistant Post Master General (APMG), Business Development, Karnataka Circle told TNIE, "We have carried out nearly 20,000 transactions till date through the CSCs. Our revenue collection is Rs 61,36,986 till date. We are the second highest in the country in January 2021."

By providing G2C and B2C services to citizens in rural and remote areas of the country, a socially financially and digitally inclusive society was being created, Tara said.

Director of Postal Services, Bengaluru, K Raveendran said that the remaining 850 post offices in the State too would offer these services by March 2021. "Mobile recharge is the most sought after service. In future, applications and payment for birth and death certificates can be made at post offices, and we will ensure they did their document," he said.

SDPI members question NIA chargesheet on DJ Halli riots

ENS @Bengaluru

MEMBERS of SDPI on Friday alleged that the NIA had filed its chargesheet in connection with last year's DJ Halli violence, under the influence of Sangh Parivar.

Addressing a press meet, Majid Khan, vice president of SDPI Karnataka, alleged that the BJP government sent the NIA under pressure from the Sangh Parivar, even as the CCB were still handling the investigation. As per directions of the government, NIA filed an FIR against SDPI in Delhi, even before starting their investigation. In the last six months, more than 2,000 individuals have been identified and investigated, most of them locals.

"The Bengaluru CCB in its chargesheet has stated that Congress leader R Sampath Raj and other corporators, and a few leaders of the JDS and SDPI are involved in the case, while there is also a political conspiracy to defame MLA Akhanda Srinivas Murthy," he said.

"In the NIA chargesheet, it is mentioned that Fairoz (a former Congressman and presently in AAP) and Naveen (a Sangh Parivar activist), used to post controversial statements regularly on social media... Naveen, who was arrested, has been released on bail since he was booked under simple IPC sections," Khan added.

'Duty of officials to make RTE Act meaningful'

OBSERVING that it is a matter of concern which calls for immediate action by the authorities, as it may cause injury to the children, Justice Shetty directed the registry to implead the Principal Secretary, Department of Primary and Secondary Education, Commissioner of Public Instruction, Deputy Commissioner, Bengaluru Urban District, Chief Executive Officer, Zilla Panchayat, Tahsildar of Bengaluru East taluk, Deputy Director of Public Instructions, North Taluk, and the Block Education Officer, KR Puram, as respondents.

Justice Shetty directed to the registry to issue notice to them to examine the issue and redress the grievances of the students without further loss of time by removing any obstructions for access to the school. Giving three weeks time to the respondents to submit their reply, he said that it is their duty to make the Right to Education Act meaningful and purposeful without making it as only a dead letter in the statute.

"Before the order could be signed, another report titled "Students happy, school to get a road soon" was published by TNIE on February 26. This report indicated the visit of the Primary and Secondary Education Minister to the school who assured the teachers and students that a road would come up within a month. It also indicated that the jurisdictional MLA had directed the tahsildar to create a temporary path by breaking a portion of the compound wall", Justice Shetty noted, while appreciating the authorities for providing temporary access.

However, he observed, "It is the responsibility and constitutional obligation of the public servants concerned to provide a permanent access road and other facilities to the school, so as to relieve the hardship being faced by the students and teachers".

Further hearing will be held on March 29.

RBI's RATIONALE FOR KEEPING INFLATION TARGET BAND INTACT

Ending speculation about revising India's inflation target upwards, the RBI concluded that medium-term price rise of 4% is appropriate for the next five years. Since the legislative mandate for the Flexible Inflation Target (FIT) began in 2016, its journey was fraught with 'intellectual scepticisim' from critics including practioners like Y V Reddy. Though inflation fell from double-digit highs of 2014, it wasn't solely because of FIT but due to a slump in international commodity prices, which minimised output losses typically associated with such regime changes. Effectively, good luck and good policy ensured that the real policy rate remained persistently positive during the five-year FIT period (FY16-FY21) excluding last two quarters, as against the pre-FIT period when it was negative for long.

Over the past 22 meetings, the Monetary Policy Committee turned out to be dovish, even though its stance was accommodative in 10 and neutral in 12 with two episodes of calibrated tightening. Concerns were raised about its indifference towards indebted firms warranting lower real rates when global rates touched zero. It was also 'severely' criticised for over-estimating both inflation and growth and it wasn't until February 2018 that FIT was utilised to nurture growth. As monetary policy enters a twilight zone, the influential view maintains that the objective to control inflation is not independent of the objective of growth.

Of the 40 countries practising FIT, several iterations were undertaken. In this spirit, some suggest the government adopt a weighted average of five forecasts by market analysts, academics and government agencies along with the institution of formal reporting to Parliament to increase accountability. An asymmetric band of +3 and -1% around the 4% target — defined as core inflation — is also called for. The RBI, too, recommends key changes like providing an explicit forward guidance of the interest rate path, besides modifying the definition of failure of MPC currently set at three consecutive quarters of inflation remaining outside the tolerance band to four consecutive quarters. These are critical in strengthening FIT's role in maintaining price stability.

PITCH DOCTORING IS NOT CRICKET

There was dust all around the batsmen. There was prodigious turn. And in between, there were balls that did not turn. It is really sad that the third Test to commemorate a grandiose stadium will be remembered for a Test that was the shortest in post-War era. Whichever way you are aligned and whatever team you support, a Test ending in such a short time — before drinks in the final session — is bad for the game. It's bad because there was no contest, an anathema in sport. The wicket was loaded in favour of spinners. This wasn't just a case of the English batsmen lacking skill — historically weak against spinners — but even the hosts were found hopping and poking. Even though Virat Kohli defended saying batsmen from both teams failed to apply themselves, that doesn't explain how Joe Root, a part-time spinner, took five wickets for eight runs on the second morning. Or hardly an over was bowled by a pacer on the second day. Another explanation was that the extra lacquer on the pink ball led to skidding without turning and batsmen playing the wrong line — 21 out of 30 dismissals were from straight balls. Playing the wrong line was accentuated by the enormous turn the wicket was offering.

What's even more intriguing is why India decided to play on turners when their practice has been to play on 'normal' subcontinental wickets like the one we saw at Chennai, with the bowlers coming into the game from the third day onwards. Add to the fact that their pace battery, including the reserves, made the country proud by winning a series in Australia only a month ago. This bunch of cricketers has so much all-round talent. It is unfair to rob them of their accolades at home because of external reasons. In sports, credit should always go to the players for the beauty they create and not the ground or the pitch.

Or were India so desperate to make the final of the inaugural World Test Championships? We will never know but one can only hope that India get back to preparing pitches they were doing in the recent past. Because not just victory, even losses on those surfaces will be sweeter and cherished forever.

When in Opposition, politicians hail the right to dissent. But when they come to power, they conveniently forget their own words and stifle freedom of expression

SPEAKING TO POWER FROM OUTSIDE AND INSIDE

GS VASU
Editor, The New Indian Express

SOUMYADIP SINHA

It's rather instructive how 'pro-people' political leaders sound when they are not in power, except that they think public memory is short and they can get away with doing exactly the opposite when in government. It's a universal phenomenon.

One such example was a video in circulation two weeks ago on WhatsApp. It featured two senior BJP leaders asking all the right questions. "Protesting against government policies is a fundamental right of citizens and the Opposition in Loktantra. The Congress has not given us this right. This right was bestowed upon all of us by the Constitution. On what basis is the prime minister saying we can't protest? If you criticise us, we will not allow you to protest seems to be the attitude of this government. The Congress has been taught a lesson during Emergency and people are not going to tolerate it even now." Being Union ministers, how could they be so brutally frank about their own government? As NITI Aayog Chairman Amitabh Kant wondered, are we really having too much democracy? Many thoughts flashed before realisation dawned that the video dates back to pre-2014.

Juxtapose what the BJP leaders said with the observations of Dharmendra Rana, an additional sessions court judge, while granting bail to young activist Disha Ravi: "Citizens cannot be put behind bars because they choose to disagree with State policies. Difference of opinion, disagreement, dissent or for that matter, even disapprobation are recognised, legitimate tools to infuse objectivity in State policies." Find any difference between the views of the BJP leaders and the judge? Not exactly, except that similar protests are now seen as acts of 'Aandolan Jeevis'. Rana also offered us insights into the Rig Veda: "Let noble thoughts come to me from all directions." Sadly, those in power, irrespective of their party, firmly believe they are the repository of all noble thoughts and the opinion of everyone else critical of them is basically destructive.

Now, examine the questions raised by BJP leaders before 2014. "Taxes on fuel are higher than fuel prices themselves. Why can't this government focus on reducing fuel prices?" asked one of them in 2013. Crude was then hovering around $100 a barrel vis-a-vis $40-65 now. Another superstar sarcastically commented: "Told the petrol pump attendant to spray ₹2-4 of petrol on the car. Jalaana hai." Now, he may have to spend more to get enough petrol to burn down the car. No need, though. The star has since attained self-realisation and transformed into a 'Shanti Jeevi'. It's a different matter that Central tax on petrol has gone up from ₹10 in 2014 to ₹32 and on diesel from ₹5 to ₹31. Don't blame the government! The revenue thus raised is meant for "Sabka Vikas".

In an obvious reference to Disha Ravi, a Union minister tweeted a group picture, in which he and his friends were seen, with this comment: "At 21, we in ABVP, were debating about how to take the country forward. Engaged in constructive nation-building work." In 2013, the same leader fumed that the "continuous rise in fuel prices is absolutely unacceptable. This is like the Jizya tax. How much looting will this government do?" Another firebrand BJP leader (also a current Union minister but mellowed these days) broke barricades at will during the UPA regime, calling the fuel/gas price hikes a shame. The same questions are being asked now. Only, those asking are destructive, anti-nationals and those raising the taxes are engaged in nation building and, therefore, beyond reproach.

A well-known pro-BJP columnist writing for many media outlets lamented that 75% of opinion pieces in newspapers are critical of the government; yet, people complain of lack of freedom of expression. After all, what was essentially wrong with Emergency? Efficiency improved, government offices functioned well, but what people detested was denial of their fundamental rights even as media too was forced to do government propaganda (any resemblance to a similar situation now is totally illusionary!). Keeping aside the veracity of the statistics put out by the columnist, isn't media supposed to hold the mirror to the government? Of the three Constitutionally created institutions — even the judiciary, which is expected to keep tabs on the legislature and the executive, is in a way a State organ. The media is not. As Bertrand Russell put it: "If an opinion contrary to yours makes you angry, subconsciously you are aware of having no good reason to think as you do."

> For now, people are left to fend for themselves and fight for their rights. As hate spreads and as a consequence economy falters, the already skewed growth will lead to a bigger social crisis

A recent tweet bemoaned it's a fallacy to believe we are in a free country when "we can't eat what we want, can't tell a joke, can't share a tweet, cannot express love in public, can't have an opinion and cannot protest". Yes, we have come to a stage when normal orders expected from courts become occasions to celebrate our Constitutional values, such as granting of bail to Disha Ravi. Let's not be confused. Some regional dispensations run by non-BJP leaders are no less undemocratic.

P Chidambaram, who as the Union home minister was responsible for enacting draconian laws, realised the value of liberty only when he himself faced arrest. We have lost memory of when the Left parties last led a well organised agitation on any public issue. No wonder, a section of social scientists have begun to ask if India was ever a democratic country in its true sense.

Ahead of the 2019 polls, when a former judge asked Rahul Gandhi during a private consultative meeting how the Congress rule in the past was different from the current BJP dispensation, his reply was: "What can I do? I have not launched this party. I only inherited it." While he may have disowned his predecessors, the baggage will continue to haunt him, as the BJP government that always promises a bright future for all of us invariably digs into the past to justify its present actions. And, the Congress has not left us with a great past. From weakening institutions, manipulating judiciary, cultivating celebrity journalists or dislodging governments, the award for the original script writing goes to the grand old party. The BJP copied its template, but with a lot more perfection and ruthlessness.

There is, however, one significant difference between the past and the present. It is the intoxication of religion. That provides the much-needed shield to check public outburst as a vast populace is pushed into a make-believe situation where they are made to think even in times of distress: Sab Upar wale ka krupa hai. A nation is essentially made of people, not temples, mosques, churches or statues. For now, people are left to fend for themselves and fight for their rights. As hate spreads and as a consequence economy falters, the already skewed growth (in terms of sharing of wealth) will lead to a bigger social crisis.

That is when the veneer falls off and the moment of truth arrives. When? As good as anybody's guess but it is going to be long and hard.

A TRUTH AND RECONCILIATION COMMISSION FOR INDIA

NANDITHA KRISHNA
Historian, environmentalist and writer based in Chennai

Year 1947 was one of celebration for those who had dreamt of a free India. But it was also a year of mourning for those who lost their homes and families as partition ripped apart two ends of a subcontinent. The Muslim League obtained the Islamic state and the Indian National Congress power and control over India. Politicians won. The people lost.

Wounds do not heal easily. The victims of partition were waiting for justice which never came. Instead, all cries and voices of dissent were ruthlessly suppressed in a Nehruvian state which imposed the Leftist concept of secularism, ignoring the injustices and carnage. This was the first of Nehru's many blunders.

People have long memories when it comes to cruelty and injustice. Tipu Sultan's depredations in Coorg and Malabar have not been forgotten. The pillaging and forced conversions by Alauddin Khilji's army and the destruction of the Vijayanagar capital by the Bahmani kingdoms are still remembered as if they happened yesterday. By suppressing voices, Nehru and his colleagues left a festering wound. There was no opposition party worth mentioning and the Bharatiya Jana Sangh founded by Dr Syama Prasad Mukerjee was a fledgling. Unfortunately, festering wounds become sores, exacerbating anger and making tensions rise. This was aggravated by vote bank politics favouring certain communities.

Today's communal tensions go back to 1947. Over the past forty years, whenever I have asked taxi drivers and middle-class persons in North India the reason for communal tensions, they talk about partition, what their families lost and how the vote bank politics of most parties ignored Hindus. They also remember the abuses of 800 years of Muslim rule, a legacy left from parent to child over the ages. Whether this is right or wrong, the fact that so many people retain these memories is not good for a developing nation.

I have often wondered what could have been done instead and remembered South Africa's Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC). No situation was as bad as South Africa where the black majority was oppressed by the ruling whites who created apartheid, imprisoning, torturing and killing black voices of protest.

When South Africa obtained its freedom the world expected a blood bath, but Nelson Mandela had a brilliant idea: he set up a Truth and Reconciliation Commission to avert a carnage. Victims of human rights violations could talk about their experiences, while the perpetrators could request amnesty from prosecution. The work of the TRC was accomplished through three committees: The Human Rights Violations Committee which investigated human rights abuses; the Reparation and Rehabilitation Committee charged with restoring the victims' dignity and assisting with their rehabilitation; and the Amnesty Committee which considered applications for amnesty in accordance with the Act.

> Over the past forty years, whenever I have asked taxi drivers and middle-class persons in North India the reason for communal tensions, they talk about partition, what their families lost and how the vote bank politics of most parties ignored Hindus

Public hearings were held at several places around South Africa, attended by eminent persons like Desmond Tutu. Unlike the Nuremberg Trials which sought to pinpoint blame and effect punishment, the TRC's goal was to let people speak and then effect reconciliation, the operative word.

A register of reconciliation was established so that ordinary South Africans who wished to express regret for past mistakes could express their remorse. The commission could grant reprieve to the perpetrators of abuses during the apartheid era for politically motivated crimes, if there was full disclosure or 'truth'.

Both sides had to appear before the commission, which heard their stories and considered amnesty applications from both the White apartheid state and the liberation forces of the African National Congress. The media was given full access to the hearings. Radio, television, films, theatre, fiction and poetry were all vehicles to publicise the work of the TRC. The TRC was useful in "bringing out the truth" of what happened during the apartheid regime. The importance of reconciliation was emphasised. In the politically surcharged atmosphere, the TRC prevented more violence. Despite some shortcomings, it is generally believed to have been a success. At least, it prevented a bloodbath.

Coming back to India, is a Truth and Reconciliation Commission possible here? We have swept differences under the carpet and left open wounds to fester. Instead, if people speak across a table, they may begin to talk rather than abuse and hate, a hatred that invariably ends in violence.

Violence breeds more violence. If wounds must heal, I cannot think of a better pathway than a Truth and Reconciliation Commission for India. Following the South African experiment, over 40 nations established TRCs to bring out human rights violations and reconcile differences.

Canada, for example, established a TRC to investigate human rights abuses in the Canadian (American) Indian residential school system, while the TRC of Mauritius covered 370 years of "socio-economic class abuses" of indentured labour and slavery systems, offering solatium and redress. It's never too late.

Can India trust Pakistan?

India and Pakistan agreeing to strictly follow ceasefire along the LoC is a welcome development (Guns fall silent on LoC as both sides agree to strictly enforce truce, Feb 26). However, India needs to keep strict vigil at the borders because Pakistan, like China, has violated agreements in the past.

K R Srinivasan, Secunderabad

The Chinese angle

It is good to know that guns fell silent on the Line of Control and the International Border between India and Pakistan from Wednesday midnight. Pakistan's change of mind seems to have come in the aftermath of China announcing disengagement of troops from the stand-off points in Ladakh. However, the question is, how can India trust Pakistan.

K R Parvathy, Mysuru

Social media emergency

The Central government has decided to tighten the screws on social media firms (Govt tightens grip on social media content, Feb 26). This retrograde step will further aid attempts to throttle free speech and freedom of expression including dissent, which has gained prominence since the farmers' agitation started. Modern India must swerve away from such self-defeating moves, reminiscent of the infamous Emergency of 1975 imposed by Indira Gandhi.

Dr George Jacob, Kochi

A bad precedent

This is with reference to Putting the Motera stadium renaming in perspective (Feb 26). While Modi's cheerleaders argue there are landmarks in India named after members of the Nehru-Gandhi family, the decisions were made only after their death. But Modi has a stadium named after him while still in office, and that too wiping out the name of Sardar Patel.

R Sivakumar, Chennai

Shocking blast

This is with reference to Blast at Sivakasi cracker unit kills 5 (Feb 26). This has happened while we are still recovering from the shock of another deadly explosion on February 12, which killed 23 people. Such back-to-back accidents only show the laxity of the administration in carrying out inspections in cracker manufacturing units. Immediate intervention of the ruling establishment is essential to prevent such catastrophes in future.

K Jayanthi, Chennai

Abuse of sedition law

Kapil Sibal says the sedition law is abused by the present ruling dispensation (Indiscriminate application of sedition law, Feb 26). But he forgets that Indira Gandhi used the Emergency to kill dissent and deployed very oppressive methods to silence the Opposition.

M S Rao, Bengaluru

Dissent a democratic right

This is with reference to The value of dissent in a nation's economy (Feb 26). The government's actions against citizens using multimedia to express their dissent are detrimental to the democratic values of freedom and liberty. Such acts create a sense of fear among citizens.

Chilaka Venkateswarlu, Chennai

Pinarayi's weak defence

Kerala Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan's defence of the deep-sea fishing controversy is weak. The argument that the MoU was signed without the government's knowledge has no takers.

Funds crunch may delay breakfast for schoolkids

Mid-day meal scheme expansion might take longer, say officials

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @New Delhi

AN ambitious plan to introduce breakfast as an extension of the mid-day meal for students in Classes I-VIII in government schools from the next academic session is set to be delayed by several months due to a fund crunch.

The Union Ministry of Education had estimated that it will cost about ₹4,000 crore to the Centre, apart from states' share, to introduce breakfast for nearly 12 crore primary and upper primary students in 2021-22. The lack of funds, however, has pushed the initiative on the backburner, sources told this newspaper.

"We were hoping to begin the project from April. However, this is set to be delayed by several months now," said a government official.

The setback for the scheme expansion comes in the backdrop of the education budget getting slashed by nearly 6 per cent. For the school education and literacy department of the education ministry, the proposed budget this year is ₹54,873 crore, 8 per cent lesser than the budget estimate of ₹59,845 proposed in the last fiscal. Officials pointed out that in 2020-21, the government incurred ₹1,900 crore more on the MDM scheme than the proposed allocation, owing to the revised policy during the Covid-19 lockdown under which benefit was provided to all enrolled students either in form of cash or ration.

> The cost incurred towards MDM was ₹12,900 crore by the Centre in 2020-21 as against ₹11,000 crore originally allocated. However, it might be many months before the Centre is comfortable to expand it
>
> Government official

"The cost incurred towards MDM was ₹12,900 crore by the Centre in 2020-21 as against ₹11,000 crore originally allocated. However, it might be many months before the Centre is comfortable to expand the programme beyond the current format," said another official. As per the arrangement, while foodgrain is provided by the Centre, the cost of preparing food and the rest of the expenditure in providing the meal is shared between the Centre and states.

The new education policy (NEP) has proposed that MDM offered to school children be supplemented with breakfast.

The policy has noted that morning hours after a nutritious breakfast can be particularly productive for the study of cognitively more demanding subjects and hence, recommended expansion of the scheme. In locations where hot meals are not possible, a simple but nutritious meal — groundnuts or chana mixed with jaggery and local fruits may be provided, says the NEP.

Pvt hospitals to double up as vax centres

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE expansion of the Covid-19 vaccination drive targeted at people above 60 and those over 45 with specified comorbidities will involve a network of private hospitals empanelled under the Central Government Health Schemes and Pradhan Mantri Jan Aarogya Yojana.

Hospitals empanelled for state-run health insurance schemes will also be the vaccination centres in this phase of the programme, set to begin from March 1, the states were told on Friday by the Centre.

At a meeting with Union health secretary Rajesh Bhushan and R S Sharma, chairman of the empowered group on vaccine administration, states were also informed that as CoWIN, the platform driving the vaccination, is being upgraded, current beneficiaries will also have a choice of vaccination centres.

As of now, healthcare and frontline workers are allocated vaccination centres and do not get an option to choose the centre of their choice. States have also been asked to ensure that the private health facilities mandatorily must have basic cold chain equipment, their own team of vaccinators and staff and adequate facility for management of any adverse event following immunisation cases for being used as vaccination centres.

All beneficiaries, regardless of the mode of access, must have also been asked to carry specified documents (see box) for identity verification and those with comorbidities will need a certificate from a registered medical practitioner.

"Vaccination will be free of charge at the government centres," said the health ministry, adding that those taking the vaccine at any designated empanelled private health facility will have to pay a pre-fixed charge, which is yet to be made public.

At the meeting, states were also asked to keep a vaccination scale-up plan ready which will include the granular weekly and fortnightly plans for scaling up the vaccination sites both within the government and private facilities and also the number of doses administered.

Covid guidelines will remain in force till March 31: Centre

NEW DELHI: The Centre on Friday extended the existing Covid-19 guidelines till March 31, stating that while there has been a substantial decline in the active and new cases, there is need to maintain surveillance, containment and caution so as to fully overcome the pandemic.

The MHA also advised states and UTs have to speed up the vaccination of the target population so as to break the chain of transmission and overcome the pandemic.

In a statement, the MHA said the focussed approach on surveillance, containment and strict observance of the guidelines and SOPs, as envisaged in the guidelines issued on January 27 need to be enforced strictly by states and Union Territories.

Accordingly, containment zones continue to be demarcated carefully; prescribed containment measures strictly followed within these zones; Covid-appropriate behaviour promoted and enforced; and the SOPs prescribed in respect of various permitted activities followed scrupulously, the home ministry said. According to the existing guidelines, cinema halls and theatres are allowed to operate with more people while swimming pools have been permitted for use by all. There is no restriction on inter-state and intra-state movement of persons and goods. ENS

Supreme Court snubs MP judge's petition in sexual harassment case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday refused to entertain a petition filed by a Madhya Pradesh district judge seeking to quash disciplinary proceedings against him following a sexual harassment complaint by a junior judicial officer and said that "sexual harassment allegations cannot be brushed aside under the carpet".

A bench headed by Chief Justice of India S A Bobde expressed its disinclination to quash the disciplinary proceedings initiated by the Madhya Pradesh High Court against senior district judge Shambhoo Singh Raghuvanshi against whom a sexual harassment complaint was lodged after he sent inappropriate messages to a junior judicial officer.

While rejecting to hear his plea, the Chief Justice of India said: "You are walking on very thin ice. You may have a chance that you may be acquitted. But as matters stand now, you are convicted. Sexual harassment allegations cannot be brushed under the carpet like this."

When the petitioner judge requested the court to allow him to approach another forum, the bench said that there was no res judicata against him.

The sexual harassment complaint against Singh was lodged in 2018.

He had earlier approached the Supreme Court to quash the disciplinary proceedings initiated by the high court, but the top court had declined to entertain the same, asking him to approach the high court instead.

SC agrees to hear plea for caste-wise census

The SC Friday agreed to hear a plea seeking direction to the Centre for conducting a caste-wise 2021 census for backward classes for efficient allocation of budgetary resources and excluding the 'creamy layer' and 'non backward class' citizens from a particular caste. A bench of CJI Bobe and Justices AS Bopanna and V Ramasubramanian issued notice to the Centre and NCBC and tagged the matter with other pending matters.

The government has made FASTag mandatory from February 15 midnight and any vehicle not fitted with it will be charged double the toll at electronic toll plazas, the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways has said. The court asked the petitioner to approach the Delhi HC.

Border residents heave sigh of relief

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

RELIEVED over the agreement between the armies of India and Pakistan to strictly follow the ceasefire accord, the residents of border areas in Jammu and Kashmir said it should be a permanent ceasefire.

"The border ceasefire will bring a lot of respite to us. We could now move freely from our dhoks (huts) and do normal chores without any threat of facing Pakistani bullets, mortar and artillery shells," said Imtiyaz Ahmad, a resident of Kamalkote, close to the Line of Control (LoC) in Uri sector.

Since Kamalkote is about 100 to 200 metres away from the LoC, it is always prone to shelling.

"We are happy over the ceasefire agreement, but want it to be a permanent affair and not a temporary one. The ceasefire can lead to peace," Imtiyaz said adding, "The cross-LoC trade should also be thrown open".

Two residents of Kamalkote were killed and two others injured, one of them lost both legs, in heavy cross-LoC shelling on November 13 last year.

Mohammad Yousuf Khan, sarpanch of Kamalkote, said cessation of hostilities along the LoC is a big relief. "We pray that both countries stick to the border ceasefire. It will allow us to start our normal chores of life without any threat or fear," Khan said.

He said the administration should take this opportunity to construct underground bunkers so the villagers can take refuge in them in case of outbreak of hostilities in future.

Mohammad Aslam, a resident of Salotri in Krishna Ghati sector of Poonch district, said if there is no shelling, they could do farming and graze their cattle. Aslam had lost three of his family members on March 1, 2019 cross-LoC shelling.

'ENCOURAGING': UN, US LAUD INDIA-PAK CEASEFIRE PACT

India and Pakistan's decision to strictly follow the ceasefire was welcomed by the UN and the US. While UN Secretary General Antonio Guterres said it was encouraging to note the steps announced by India and Pakistan along the LoC, the US called it a positive step towards greater peace and stability in South Asia. "The US welcomes the joint statement between India and Pakistan that the two countries have agreed to maintain strict observance of a ceasefire along the LoC starting on February 25," White House spokesperson Jen Psaki said. "United Nations Secretary-General Antonio Guterres is "encouraged" by India and Pakistan`s decision to strictly observe all agreements on a ceasefire along the Line of Control (LoC)," UN Secretary General's spokesperson Stephane Dujarric said.

TIMELY COMMUNICATION

India & China to set up hotline as tension eases

NEW DELHI: External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar and his Chinese counterpart Wang Yi, during the 75-minute phone call on Thursday, decided to establish a hotline to ensure timely communication in the wake of tensions along the LAC.

According to a statement by the MEA, Jaishankar told Wang that the bilateral ties had been severely impacted over the last one year and while the boundary question would take time to resolve, the disturbance of peace will have a damaging impact on the ties.

"It was necessary to disengage at all friction points to contemplate de-escalation of forces in this sector. That alone will lead to the restoration of peace and tranquillity and provide conditions for the progress of our bilateral relationship," the statement said.

Wang underlined how both sides perceived the border crisis differently and said practical cooperation between India and China had been affected.

"Decades of experiences have shown repeatedly that heightening differences do not help solve problems, and that it only erodes the basis of mutual trust. Both sides should avoid the wrong path of mutual misgivings and suspicion, still less the path of retrogression, and should handle the boundary question properly to prevent the bilateral relationship from sinking into a negative cycle," he said.

Responding to China's remarks that border differences should not impact the ties, India said it was not realistic to insulate the ties from the crisis and stressed that peace on the border is a prerequisite for the ties. "With the completion of disengagement in Pangong Tso, both sides should now quickly resolve the remaining issues along the LAC and once disengagement is completed, the two sides could also look at broader de-escalation of troops in the area," Jaishankar said. ENS

MEA rejects UN panel's demand for release of Christian Michel

NEW DELHI: India lashed out at the UN committee had which sought the release of alleged Agusta middleman and UK national Christian Michel, saying it rejected the panel's opinion and that it is not a judicial body, and its observations are not legally binding on member states.

"We regret that the conclusions drawn by the Working Group are based on limited information, biased allegations from an unidentified source and on an inaccurate understanding of India's criminal justice system," MEA Spokesperon Anurag Srivastava said in a statement.

The United Nations Working Group on Arbitrary Detention (WGAD) found that Michel, who has been held in India since December 2018 after being extradited from the UAE, was being detained arbitrarily. Srivastava said the extradition was done entirely in accordance with the provisions of the Extradition Treaty signed between two sovereign States and that the arrest and subsequent custody were done as per the due process of law and cannot be considered arbitrary on any grounds.

"At no time was the accused denied his rights to legal counsel or a fair hearing. The fact that he has been able to approach courts on multiple occasions including the higher judiciary is itself proof of this. He has been treated at par as other detainees and provided all facilities by the prison authorities as per rules," he added. ENS

NIA files charge sheet against 11 al-Qaeda members

NEW DELHI: The National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Friday chargesheeted 11 terrorists of al Qaeda who were planning to execute several terror attacks in the country on the instructions of their Pakistan- and Bangladesh-based handlers.

The "nefarious plans" of the terrorists were obviated by their "timely arrest", the anti-terror agency said, adding that the accused were planning to attack among others, an India based Bangladeshi blogger.

Murshid Hasan, Mosaraf Hoseen, Mainul Mandal, Lea Yean Ahmed, Najmus Sakib, Iyakub Biswas, Samim Ansari, Abu Sufian, Atiur Rahman, Al Mamun Kamal and Abdul Momin Mandal have been named in the charge sheet under sections of the IPC, the UAPA and the Arms Act, NIA officials said.

The case was registered by the NIA based on information about an al Qaeda-inspired module sprouting and operating in Bengal and Kerala under the leadership of Hasan.

The members of this module were in advanced stage of conspiracy to execute terrorist attacks in different parts of the country, NIA officials said. During raids in various parts of Bengal and Kerala on September 19, the agency arrested nine terrorists. Subsequently, two more terror operatives were arrested from Bengal on August 26 and November 1 last year.

Hasan was in touch with al Qaeda handlers based in Pakistan and Bangladesh and had received instructions along with radical propaganda material through encrypted social media platforms from them, an NIA spokesperson said.

Mamata unhappy with eight phases, BJP says it's fine

West Bengal CM alleges schedule drawn to please Modi and Shah, saffron brigade retaliates saying this will ensure free and fair polls

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

WITH Assembly elections dates announced and West Bengal set to have polling over eight phases, the ruling Trinamool Congress faces a battle for survival. BJP had made massive inroads in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections held over seven phases. Outsiders then, the saffron brigade is a major force now.

News of polls in eight phases didn't please Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee, who alleged that this has been done to suit BJP. "With due respect to the Election Commission, I want to say that questions are being raised why elections will be held in so many phases in Bengal? In other states, it is happening in one phase. If EC doesn't provide justice to the people, where will the people go," she said.

"I have information that poll dates are similar to what BJP wanted. Have dates been announced as per the suggestions of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah? They cannot misuse their power," she added.

BJP's state vice-president Jayprakash Majumdar welcomed the EC decision. "We are happy. We hope elections will be free and fair and people will be allowed to exercise their democratic right without any fear. Mamata Banerjee's party has already lost the battle. We will whitewash her party in the elections," he said.

Political observers see this as Mamata's fight for survival. BJP's presence in the state has increased manyfold and they had vote share of around 40 per cent in 2019, up from 10.6 per cent in the 2016 Assembly polls. "This is a litmus test for the saffron camp and the state is likely to witness a tough contest. Since there was large-scale exodus from TMC to BJP, if Mamata fails to retain Bengal, her party might collapse," said Bishnupriya Dutta Gupta, a professor of political science.

Trinamool leaders admit that they have a tough test ahead. "BJP's vote share was 10.16% in 2016 Assembly elections and it shot up in 2019, which came a as a blow to our party. It will be a tooth and nail battle," said a senior leader.

CPI(M) leader Sujan Chakraborty said efforts should have been made to tighten security during the elections. "Seven or eight phases are not enough. The electorate should be free from any sort of fear."

After that, came the challenge of Bihar. It was a watershed moment for ECI. It proved to be a litmus test."

The CEC applauded healthcare workers and ECI officials. "All poll officials will be vaccinated."

Coalition vs coalition in battleground of Assam

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

UNLIKE in the past, this year's Assam elections will be fought among coalitions of parties.

To take on the BJP-Asom Gana Parishad (AGP)-United People's Party Liberal (UPPL) combine, six parties led by Congress have formed a grand alliance. Others in it are All India United Democratic Front (AIUDF), CPI, CPM, CPI-ML and Anchalik Gana Morcha.

There is also the united front of Asom Jatiya Parishad (AJP), Raijor Dal and Autonomous State Demand Committee (ASDC). Ditched by BJP, Bodoland People's Front (BPF) is weighing options. BPF chief Hagrama Mohilary on Friday said his party favours an alliance with anti-BJP forces provided they agree not to contest in the 12 seats in the districts of Bodoland Territorial Region.

BJP has set a goal of winning 100-odd of the 126 seats together with allies. But its worries over the coming together of Congress and AIUDF, and the birth of AJP and Raijor Dal are palpable. "The agitationists have emerged with different names to split BJP votes. Their goal is to help Congress," Union Home Minister Amit Shah said in Assam on Thursday.

Bengali Muslims have traditionally voted for Congress and AIUDF. The AIUDF is confident the grand alliance will be able to derail the BJP applecart. "The Congress-AIUDF alliance has made the BJP so nervous that Narendra Modi and Shah had to come to Assam several times," AIUDF chief Maulana Badruddin Ajmal said.

Congress is relying on its opposition of the CAA, saying that people are fed up of BJP's false promises.

Letter found in car near Ambani house

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MUMBAI Police has formed 10 teams to investigate the abandoned Scorpio vehicle containing explosives found near the residence of Mukhesh Ambani.

According to the police, a letter found in the vehicle read: "Next time, all this stuff in the vehicle will come connected. The planning was done to blow your entire family. Understand it."

Satej Patil, Minister for State for Home, said: "We are confident the police will nab the culprit and the truth will come out." Security has been beefed up around the skyscrapper called Antilia. A team from the National Investigation Agency (NIA) has also reached Mumbai.

According to the police, the Scorpio was stolen from Vikroli on February 17. "In the vehicle, eight number plates were found. One was matching with a security vehicle of the Ambanis. There were 25 gelatin sticks in the vehicle. The driver came out from the back door. CCTVs could not capture his face," said a police officer.

Litmus test for Rahul Gandhi before Congress elects own president

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

GRAPPLING with the challenge of electoral slide, leadership issues and infighting, Congress will face a litmus test in the five Assembly elections. The party is looking to form governments in Kerala and Assam, with an eye on improving its electoral performance in West Bengal and Tamil Nadu.

The Assembly elections fought under Congress leader Rahul Gandhi would also have an impact on the presidential elections in the party scheduled to be held after these elections. In Kerala and Assam, the Congress is the main opposition party but in Tamil Nadu and West Bengal, it is a junior player contesting in alliance with the DMK and the Left front, respectively.

"These elections are important keeping in mind that presidential elections in the party will be held right after these. A good performance in Kerala, Assam and Puducherry, and improving the tally in TN and Bengal will in a way give ammunition to Team Rahul members to target rebel party leaders, who have been questioning the party losing ground connect," said a party leader.

In Kerala, which has a trend of voting alternate parties to power, a win for the Congress-led UDF is important, keeping in mind that Rahul is an MP from Wayanad. He has been extensively campaigning in the state after the incumbent LDF government's mediocre performance in the local body elections.

After the demise of Tarun Gogoi, the party has lost a popular face in Assam. It is banking on the sentiments against the CAA and the NRC in the state.

The Congress has entered into an alliance with Badruddin Ajmal's AIUDF, eyeing Muslim votes.

The BJP government in the state is banking on its five-year development work to come back to power.

With Bengal expected to witness a high-decibel election where the BJP and the ruling TMC are engaged in a pitched battle, the Congress-Left alliance is looking to turn it into a triangular contest with the Indian Secular Front of Furfura sharif cleric Abbas Siddiqui also joining them to consolidate minority votes in its favour.

Cong MLAs suspended in Himachal Assembly row

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

FIVE Congress MLAs, including Leader of Opposition Mukesh Agnihotri, were suspended from the Himachal Pradesh Assembly on Friday. There were unruly scenes when some legislators tried to block Governor Bandaru Dattatraya and his cavalcade when they were leaving the Assembly premises after he delivered his address on the opening day of the budget session.

The Congress MLAs stood in Dattatraya's way and his official vehicle after he walked out of the Assembly. Both BJP and Congress traded allegations of manhandling and assault during the commotion.

The House then decided unanimously to suspend Congress MLAs Agnihotri, Harsh Vardhan Chauhan, Sunder Singh Thakur, Satpal Raizada and Vinay Kumar.

Parliamentary Affairs Minister Suresh Bhardwaj said the MLAs insulted the Constitution and manhandled his aide-de-camp and others.

When the governor was reading his speech, Agnihotri stood up and said he made no mention of price rise, unemployment and other important issues. As Congress MLAs tried to disrupt his address, Dattatraya ended his speech and said it may be considered as read. Agnihotri alleged that Congress MLAs were manhandled.

Rape, murder charges against 4 in Hathras case

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE Special SC/ST Court in Hathras on Friday framed charges against four accused of the gang-rape and murder of a 19-year-old Dalit girl in Boolgarhi village under Chandpa police station area last September.

Accepting the CBI charge-sheet, the Special Court framed gang-rape and murder charges against Sandeep, Ravi, Ramu and Lavkush after hearing both sides. As per sources, the victim's family, the four accused, CBI investigative officer Dy SP Seema Pahuja were present in the court during hearing. The accused were brought from Aligarh Jail under tight security. The next hearing will be on March 2.

The Special Court had already rejected bail applications of Ravi, Ramu and Lavkush. Sandeep is yet to apply for bail. After framing of charges, all four were sent back to Aligarh jail.

The Dalit girl was gang-raped and brutalised allegedly by four youths of the village in Hathras district of Uttar Pradesh on September 14. The incident took place when the victim had gone to the field with her mother to collect fodder for the cattle. After the incident, the girl was admitted to a district hospital in critical condition and was later taken to Jawaharlal Nehru Medical College in Aligarh. As her condition deteriorated, she was shifted to Safdarjung Hospital in Delhi on September 28, but died on September 29.

Cremation of the victim's body by Hathras police in a hush-hush manner against the family's wish in the dead of night on September 30 created a nationwide stir. The Yogi Adityanath government then referred the case to CBI.

After investigations, CBI filed a charge-sheet in 67 days against the four accused in the Special Court.

Multiple IPC sections against the accused

RBI in favour of keeping inflation target for 5 years

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has sought to retain its current inflation targeting regime and recommended that the government renew it for another five years. This would help instill confidence in the broader economy that is still prone to supply shocks and demand shrinkage, it said.

Currently, the RBI is mandated to maintain headline inflation at 4 per cent, but is allowed a margin of 2 per cent to either side. Discussions over the regime have gathered steam, however, since the current five-year system is set to end on March 31, leaving the Centre less than a month to decide on whether to set a new target or maintain status quo.

"Threshold inflation above which growth is unambiguously impaired ranges between 5 and 6 per cent, indicating that an inflation rate of six percent is the appropriate upper tolerance limit for the inflation target," RBI said in a report on currency and finance for the year 2020-21. A lower bound of above 2 per cent can lead to actual inflation frequently dipping below the tolerance band, while a lower bound below 2 per cent will hamper growth, it added.

On the upper tolerance limit, international experience suggests that countries with a large share of food in the CPI basket tend to have higher inflation targets and wider tolerance bands. The lower tolerance level for inflation in India can be estimated by assessing the impact of supply shocks on production costs and pricing. There appears to be a minimum inflation below which producers are unable to pass on changes in production costs, it said, adding that any attempt to bring down inflation below this would dis-incentivise production as firms would not be able to pass on increased costs.

In the history of CPI, inflation has not fallen below 2 per cent in any quarter. "It is important to recognise that while setting a single target/tolerance band for the next five years, structural changes that may materialise or the type of shocks that may hit the economy are difficult to anticipate fully," the report said.

Fiscal deficit hits 66.8% of revised forecast

Analysts say prospects for fiscal consolidation remain weak given mixed track record in revenue-raising measures

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

₹12.34L cr India's fiscal deficit as of the end of Janaury 2021, according to CGA

₹18.48L cr India's estimated fiscal deficit for the entire fiscal year 2020-21

DATA released on Friday by the Controller General of Accounts (CGA) showed that, as of the end of January 2021, India's fiscal deficit had breached 66.8 per cent of the revised budget estimates for the current financial year (2020-21).

The gap between the government's revenue and expenditure (Fiscal deficit), in absolute terms, stood at ₹12.34 lakh crore. The whole year's target, which has been more than doubled by the finance minister to factor in the impact of the pandemic, has been pegged at ₹18.48 lakh crore, or 9.5 per cent of estimated GDP.

Before the Centre had revised the estimates during the recent Budget session of the Parliament, the revenue disruptions caused by Covid had caused to Centre to breach the earlier target of ₹7.96 lakh crore as early as July 2020.

According to the data released on Friday, during the April 2020 to January 2021 period, total receipts stood at ₹12.83 lakh crore which is 80.1 per cent of the revised Budget target of ₹16.01 lakh crore. Tax revenue stood at ₹11.01 lakh crore against Budget estimates of ₹13.44 lakh crore, while non-tax revenue was at ₹1.41 lakh crore, 67 per cent of revised estimates of ₹2.10 lakh crore.

Revenue expenditure stood at ₹21.55 lakh crore, while capital expenditure came in at ₹3.62 lakh crore for the period. Total expenditure was ₹25.17 lakh crore—73 per cent of the ₹34.50 lakh crore revised estimate. Revenue deficit was 62.6 per cent of revised estimates at ₹14.56 lakh crore, and primary deficit at ₹7.14 lakh crore.

Experts warn that India's fiscal prospects are likely to remain weak. "Our current expectation is that in the current fiscal ending March 2021, the economy would contract 7 per cent... We expect a rebound of 13.7 per cent growth in the next fiscal on normalisation of activity and base effects," Moody's Investors Service Associate Managing Director (Sovereign Risk) Gene Fang said.

Prospects for fiscal consolidation also remain weak given the government's mixed track record of implementing revenue-raising measures, Fang pointed out.

High fuel prices, GST changes spark protest

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

OVER eight crore traders from over 40,000 trade associations, one crore transporters, three crore hawkers and nearly 75 lakh small industries across India have shut shop in protest against rising fuel prices, changes in GST rules and the e-way bill mechanism, among other issues.

Industry body Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT), which called for the 'Bharat Bandh', was also supported by the All India Transport Welfare Association (AITWA), the apex organisation of India's around crore transporters.

Other organisations including the All India FMCG Products Distributors Federation, All India Women Entrepreneurs Association, Hawkers Joint Action Committee, Federation of All India Vegetable Oil Dealers Association, National Small Industries Association and other national and state level organisations participated in the bandh.

Traders want GST simplified further

CAIT has been campaigning for a simplification of the GST regime towards enabling easier compliance specifically for small traders. "... arbitrary powers have been given to the tax authorities," the traders' association complained.

However, various markets remained open, with traders saying that despite supporting the cause, they did not want to suffer another day of losses. Essential services such as medicine and vegetable shops were open for business. The response to the bandh was mixed with differential impact seen across states, traders' representatives pointed out.

All major markets were shut in states like Maharashtra, Gujarat and Madhya Pradesh, whereas it had around a 70-80 per cent impact in South India and over 80 per cent impact in the North East states, they said. Markets in most parts of West Bengal also bore a barren look, according to reports.

Fewer vehicles were seen plying on the roads of Bhubaneswar and a majority of trucks and goods-carrying vehicles did not ply on highways across Karnataka. The shutdown call given by All India Traders' Association, however, only evoked a poor response in Telangana with few shops downing shutters in parts of Hyderabad.

₹5.4 lakh crore m-cap wiped out as Sensex dives

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AFTER having rallied for months but facing minor setback over the recent few sessions, the BSE Sensex nosedived 1,939 points (3.80 per cent) on Friday to close at 49,100. Led by a spike in United States bond yields, the dive made investors poorer by ₹5.4 lakh crore in a single day as market capitalisation of BSE-listed firms fell to ₹206.18 lakh crore from ₹200.81 lakh crore.

The broader NSE Nifty also tanked 568 points (3.76 per cent) to close at 14,529. During intraday trade, Nifty went below the 14,500 mark while Sensex fell by as much as 2,149 points, its worst performance since the height of the pandemic last summer in May.

"Domestic markets tumbled in line with global trend triggered by a sharp rise in bond yields. Increasing geopolitical tension between the US and Syria aggravated the selling. Q3 GDP data which is to be released today also added volatility in the Indian market," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services.

Hemang Jani, Head of Equity Strategy, Broking & Distribution, Motilal Oswal Financial Servcies said, "Equity markets opened gap down following spike in global bond yields and extended its weakness further as the session progressed. Panic in global bond markets led to sharp rise in yields which spooked investors amid fears of interest rate cycle reversal."

Friday saw bourses throughout the world. not only in India, close with heavy losses. In the Indian stock markets, banking stocks took the biggest hit with Bajaj Finserv, Axis Bank, and Kotak Mahindra Bank falling around 6 per cent.

Rusmik Oza, Executive VP, Head of Fundamental Research at Kotak Securities said that since valuations were still on the higher side, investors would be wise to exercise caution.

THAILAND

BANK OF THAILAND PLANS ASSET WAREHOUSE SCHEME

The Bank of Thailand is planning an asset warehousing programme to help the struggling hospitality and property sectors. The proposed concept allows business operators to suspend debt repayment and transfer property assets as loan collateral to their creditors temporarily within a specific timeframe. Businesses would be allowed to either lease these frozen assets from the creditors to continue operations or let the creditors manage them. A buy-back agreement within a specific timeframe would also be embedded as a condition. The hospitality sector has endured a prolonged slowdown and since they possess property assets and many businesses have used them as loan collateral, the plan appears beneficial given that SMEs have faced difficulty accessing bank loans, especially during the pandemic.

Singapore also ranks third with 59 per cent of digitally skilled workers applying advanced digital skills incluing data mining knowledge, using digital tools to streamline work processes and creating large-scale data models. Although India has the smallest share of digitally skilled workers at 12 per cent of its workforce, it has the highest proportion of digitally skilled workers applying advanced digital skills at 71 per cent.

JAPAN

COUNTRY'S FACTORY OUTPUT INCREASES

Japan's industrial output rose for the first time in three months in January thanks to a pickup in global demand, in a welcome sign for an economy still looking to shake off the impact of the pandemic. Official data released Friday showed factory ouput advanced 4.2 per cent in January, boosted by sharp rises in the production of electronic parts and general-purpose machinery, as well as a smaller increase in auto output. While economic growth will likely be negative in Q1, the strength in manufacturing would offset the negative impact of a state of emergency, which is affecting the services sector. The rise in output, which followed a 1 per cent fall the previous month, was largely in line with a 4 per cent gain forecast. But retail sales posted their second straight month of declines in January.

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIAN Oil Corporation (IOC) on Friday said that it will invest ₹32,946 crore in order to expand that capacity of its oil refinery located at Panipat, Haryana to 25 million tonnes per annum. It will also set up several chemical units at the refinery complex. The expansion will be completed by September 2024.

The Panipat refinery currently has the capacity to turn 15 million tonnes of crude oil per annum into value-added fuels such as petrol, diesel, and Aviation Turbine Fuel.

Besides expanding the oil refining capacity, the company also plans to set up a polypropylene unit and a catalytic dewaxing unit, it said in a statement. Polypropylene is used in packaging, plastic parts for various industries, special devices like living hinges, and textiles. Catalytic dewaxing is used in base oil production.

"The capacity expansion would improve the operational flexibility of the refinery to meet the domestic energy demand and would also enhance the petrochemicals intensity," the company pointed out, adding that the value-added speciality products would not only improve the margins but also de-risk the conventional fuel business of the firm.

NPCI FOR RETAIL TRANSACTIONS

RBI extends deadline to apply for umbrella entity on retail payments

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has extended the deadline for submitting applications for the authorisation of a pan-India umbrella entity for retail payments up to March 31, citing Covid-related disruptions and inconveniences.

"Requests were received from various stakeholders, including the Indian Banks' Association, for extending the timeline," the Reserve Bank of India said. The central bank had invited applications in August and given six months' time to apply for a license.

Consortiums of top corporates, including Reliance Industries, banks, and fintech firms, are aggressively looking to create a NPCI-like body for retail payments to cash in on the ongoing shift to digital payments.

State Bank of India, ICICI Bank, HDFC Bank, Bank of Baroda, Axis Bank, IndusInd Bank, Kotak Mahindra Bank and Yes Bank are all eyeing the licence. Firms such as Amazon and start-ups like Ola and Paytm are also expected to join the race for the license.

On Thursday, two leading private sector banks—Kotak Mahindra Bank and HDFC Bank—outlined investment plans in Ferbine Private Limited, which is promoted by Tata Sons and was incorporated on January 18 to apply for the PUE licence. Industry sources say that the extension would enable another 3-4 more players to apply for the licence. Just like NPCI runs UPI, IMPS and other payment modes, the proposed umbrella entity will create similar mechanisms which will then be used by banks and fintech companies for retail transactions.

GOING FOR GOLD: MARY'S AIM

Pugilist, plotting a comeback to the ring after a year, has in her crosshairs Olympic target

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE laughs and giggles turn her tales of hardwork and intense training into some kind of humour. It portrays a picture of happiness and satisfaction dismissing the rigours, pain and sweat endured during boxing training. Even now when she had to return after a terrible bout of dengue this season, Mary Kom's words were quite profound: "It was painful but as a sportsperson, I cannot think about this too much. I have to get over it and move on." Comebacks have become a common ritual for her. Two decades on, after four children, she still has the motivation to train, fight and step on to the ring. The ember is still burning.

"I am never satisfied with my performance," she says during a chat over phone. "I am still not satisfied with what I have achieved." Her achievements — London Olympic Games bronze medal, multiple world champion titles, innumerable international medals. They are not enough for Mary, who turns 38 on March 1.

The next meet in Spain, more than a year after her last competitive bout, would be a teaser before the Olympics. "I want to get a feel of competition," she says a couple of days before the team leaves. The revelry of rivalry in competitions, the travel even in these times, those sessions of warmups before fights, the taping of the fist... the package has already trickled her fancy. "This is a kind of preparation for the Olympics," she says. "There has been no competition for one year. This is where you assess yourself. It is good to participate in international events."

Weight had been an issue when she started training after dengue, but now "it's under control". "Training has not changed at all. Once you are back, there should be nothing that bothers you and only focus should be on training. Winning medal is my objective. First thing is to prepare myself well. It's been quite some time since I fought competitively but I am focused on doing well."

This being the Olympic year, like all top athletes, Mary is focussed on the Games. Gold is the metal she is targeting. "I have a dream to win gold. For so many years I've been fighting. I've won so many medals but I have not won a gold at the Olympics."

Mary also pointed out that of late, there's hardly been anything for boxers to complain about. "Once boxing was included in the Olympics and Asian Games, involvement of sports ministry and federation has increased. Around 2010 onwards, there have been no lack of support. Facilities improved, there was no dearth of equipment and other support. Whatever we wanted, we got immediately."

The academy Mary has established in Imphal has started producing medallists. "That gives joy," she says. "They are going to international meets especially in youth events and winning medals."

"I have a busy schedule in my personal life also. I'm a mother and I have to devote time for my children. What I have realised that you have to be sincere with your work. You have to constantly train and evolve. I always feel there is no short cut. You have to train sincerely. And not satisfied with what you have done but aim for better."

Ashwin spins a gripping new tale

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Ahmedabad

IF Harbhajan Singh hadn't suffered an injury in Australia during the 2002 tour, Anil Kumble might not have found a second wind. Harbhajan's absence meant Kumble not only found his place in the XI, by the time the tour ended he had re-established himself as lead spinner.

Eighteen years later, Ravichandran Ashwin may have found his second wind. Had Ravindra Jadeja been fit for the beginning of the Australia Test series, India would have played the southpaw for the opening Test. Instead, Jadeja's hamstring injury meant Ashwin sneaked in. He has been on a roll since. It led to even captain Virat Kohli saying that Ashwin hasn't been this confident ever.

That confidence is perhaps a part of his persona now. He doesn't let outsiders influence his thoughts and he doesn't take the field to prove anything to anyone. There was a period where he did all of these. It was in this period when he would take criticisms to heart, it used to hurt him. However, since the pandemic, something has changed.

During lockdown, Ashwin stuck to what he knew as a kid: cricket. With no live matches in the world, he started his own YouTube channel. Weekly quizzes and interactions with present and past cricketers became his diet. Even if he wasn't always picked in overseas Tests apart from being ignored in white-ball cricket for sometime now, he has rarely frowned.

He is just 34 wickets away from overtaking Kapil Dev's haul of 434 wickets. From there on, fitness permitting, there is only one more Indian to go past: Anil Kumble.

"I can't get a grip of what's happened in the last two-three months. If I look back, it's been sort of a dreamy ride, it's been a fairytale. When I started the Australia tour, I didn't expect to be in the XI because Jadeja was looking like he was going to start. And he got a hamstring tear and since then things have looked upwards," Ashwin told the host broadcaster.

There comes a time, where even critics realise the true worth of a champion. Ashwin is at that stage now. Even those who have been critical of him, don't pick on him anymore.

Vinay retires from all forms of cricket

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

DOMESTIC stalwart and former India pacer Vinay Kumar hung up his boots from first class and international cricket on Friday. He made the announcement on Twitter.

The 37-year-old took this decision after speaking to his wife and a few coaches. It will be interesting to see his future plans. Though undecided, he wants to give back to the game, which gave him an identity.

"I do not have any plans, but I will be involved with cricket for sure. It has given me so much. I would want to give it back. I am open to everything, will wait for whatever opportunity comes my way. I am open to offers of coaching, guiding India and Karnataka youngsters and helping them in their cricketing career," Vinay said.

The former Karnataka captain, who made his state debut in 2004, scalped 504 first-class, 225 List-A and 194 T20 wickets. Besides, he also represented India in 31 ODIs, nine T20Is and a solitary Test.

He was one of the best new ball bowlers Karnataka produced. The pacer will be remembered as a team man and a captain who led from the front. He gave up his Karnataka playing days to represent Pondicherry as a guest player last season. He did so to make room for youngsters ahead of the last domestic season.

The veteran's contribution to Karnataka cricket stands out, helping them win several trophies. The most significant being the double-treble, winning the Ranji Trophy, Vijay Hazare and Irani Trophy, and he considers it to be one of his career's biggest highlights.

"I have many wonderful memories like hat-trick against Mumbai and many more like that. But, the treble season, winning back-to-back, if I had to choose, has to be the best memory. Winning such titles is a great moment for any cricketer," he said.

He also featured in the IPL for Kochi Tuskers, Kolkata Knight Riders, Mumbai Indians and Royal Challengers Bangalore as well.

BSY: THE GATEWAY TO SOUTH

An organisational man, an ace orator, an empathetic listener may be some of the epithets that usually go with Chief Minister Bookanakere Siddalingappa Yediyurappa.

But there is one trait that is inseparable from brand BSY- that he is a man of his words. Cutting across party lines, politicians and people unequivocally agree that B S Yediyurappa seldom betrays anyone's trust.

It is a well-known fact that B S Yediyurappa attends to all elected representatives promptly without discriminating on party lines. He is one of those rare politicians who separate politics from governance. He seldom lets political differences come in the way of development. Even Opposition politicians agree that B S Yediyurappa has transcended party politics to become a statesman.

From the humble beginnings in a tiny rice mill in Shikaripura, B S Yediyurappa has come a long way. He started his public life as Rastriya Swayam Sevak Sangh prachark and went on to become a torch bearer of Jan Sangh in Karnataka.

At a time when Jan Sangh had little presence in the State, he cycled from village to village to promote the party. It is those years of grassroots work that holds him in good stead even today.

Many wondered if he was wasting his political opportunity trying to build the Jan Sangh in Karnataka. But B S Yediyurappa had different plans. With his unwavering grit and determination, which has indeed become a hallmark, he managed to mobilise and enthuse the party cadre. It was his hard work at the grassroots level that laid the foundation for BJP South of Vindhays a few decades later. Not without a reason he is called 'The Gateway to South' for the party.

A vocal leader, it is not surprising that he spent 45 days in jail during the Emergency. The stint behind the bars made his resolve to build an alternative political force, even stronger.

B S Yediyurappa's politics has always been fire brand. Be it his support for farmers or upholding the Hindu religion or uplifting the poorer sections of the society, he has fought hard.

Over the decades, he has built an image which transcends caste, creed and religion. He has very strong following in all segments of the society.

Generosity is B S Yediyurappa's middle name. It is a well-known fact that no one goes back empty-handed after meeting him. No wonder that his tenure as a Chief Minister receives some of the highest number of petitions.

Even politicians from opposition parties admit his 'never say no' attitude. It is well-known that he always makes a sincere effort to resolve even the toughest of issues- be it political, economic or social.

The 2018 election is a classic example of his ability of resolving complex issues. The ruling party strategically brought up the issue of a separate religion for Lingayats to put BJP in a difficult spot. But B S Yediyurappa handled the issue deftly and the result was evident in the results. Any other leader in that position would have struggled to contain that crisis.

Karnataka is touted as the Gateway to South for the BJP, but it would not be an exaggeration to say that B S Yediyurappa was the actual 'Gateway to South' for the party. BJP had a stellar performance in Karnataka in 2014 and 2019 but the party has had a strong presence in Karnataka right from 2004 itself, thanks to the foundation laid by B S Yediyurappa decades ago.

From the modest beginnings in Shikaripura, he has grown to be one of the tallest leaders of Karnataka. Whether he is in power or not, B S Yediyurappa always fights for the people of Karnataka.

Hearty Birthday wishes to B.S.Yediyurappa ji Chief Minister of Karnataka

US Navy's F-18E Super Hornets supporting operations against IS in Syria

Harris not informed?

Vice President of the United States Kamala Harris, who, since the start of the new administration, was almost always seen beside President Joe Biden as he passed critical orders was reportedly not informed about Friday's attack. "Harris was not informed and is very upset about being left out: WH source," Jack Posobiec, a right-wing political activist, tweeted

Biden sends message to Iran with strike on Syria

17 pro-Iran fighters killed in first US attack under new administration

WASHINGTON

THE US forces bombed facilities in eastern Syria used by pro-Iran armed groups on Thursday, in what analysts said, was a strong message from President Joe Biden to the Iranian leadership.

The attack eliminated 17 pro-Iran fighters, according to the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights.

"At President Biden's direction, US military forces earlier this evening conducted airstrikes against infrastructure utilized by Iranian-backed militant groups in eastern Syria," a spokesman for US Defence Department John Kirby in a statement. "These strikes were authorized in response to recent attacks against American and Coalition personnel in Iraq, and to ongoing threats to those personnel," he said.

The Syrian Observatory for Human Rights said 17 people were killed after the strike hit three trucks loaded with munitions coming from Iraq near the Syrian city of Bukamal.

The group said all the dead were from Iraq's state-sponsored Hashed al-Shaabi force, the umbrella group over many small militias that have ties to Iran. The US action followed three rocket attacks on facilities in Iraq used by US forces fighting the IS group.

One of those strikes, on a military complex in the Kurdish region's capital Arbil on February 15, killed a civilian and a foreign contractor working with coalition forces, and injured several US contractors and a soldier.

Analysts said the attack is likely a strong message to Tehran that the US will not tolerate attacks against American interests in the region, while leaving the door open for talks.

It comes as the Biden administration faces an uncertain road in its attempts to resurrect the 2015 Iran nuclear deal — which gave Tehran billions of dollars in sanctions relief in exchange for curbs on its nuclear program and that the Trump administration pulled out of.

In the meantime, relations with Iran have been further strained as the country's proxies become more assertive, with Iran-backed militias increasingly targeting US interests and allies. That has rekindled worries that the standoff relations between the US and Iran could end up being fought out in Iraq.

Already there are signs that Iraq is being used to fight a proxy war. Explosive-laden drones that targeted Saudi Arabia's royal palace in the kingdom's capital last month were launched from inside Iraq. AFP

US drops key obstacle to G20 digital tax

WASHINGTON

THE G20 looked closer to an agreement on Friday on a global digital tax after a change of heart from the United States removed a key stumbling block in the discussions.

Under previous president Donald Trump, the US had insisted on a so-called safe harbour clause that would have made compliance with a global digital tax voluntary.

But, in a videoconference with G20 colleagues, new US Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen said her country "will engage robustly in the talks and is no longer advocating for safe harbour," a Treasury official said.

A global digital tax would target US internet giants such as Amazon, Facebook and Google, which have long been accused of exploiting loopholes to minimise their tax bills.

Negotiations on the issue, held under the auspices of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), have been deadlocked, with the United States and European Union on opposing sides of the argument.

Yellen's announcement suggests that a deal by mid-2021, as pledged by a G20 summit in Saudi Arabia last year, is now possible, the French and German finance ministers both said.

Italian Economy Minister Daniele Franco—whose country holds the G20 presidency—said a deal could "hopefully" be struck at a July 9-10 meeting of G20 finance ministers and central bank chiefs in Venice

Germany welcomed Washington's decision.

"This is a giant step forward on our path towards an agreement among the participating states by the summer," German Finance Minister Olaf Scholz said in a statement following virtual talks with his G20 counterparts.

The French government said on Friday that a global digital tax deal was possible within months after.

An agreement by the summer was now "within reach" and had to "concluded without delay", Finance Minister Bruno Le Maire told his G20 counterparts.

Friday's video conference had a broader purpose of aligning G20 countries' plans to relaunch their economies after the coronavirus pandemic and to limit the harm to the worst-off nations shut out of the race for vaccines.

On Thursday, Washington urged wealthy G20 countries to launch a truly global, coordinated vaccination campaign.

"Without access to vaccines, low-income countries in particular will experience further tragic loss of life and needlessly delay their economic recoveries," Yellen wrote.

She also signalled openness to issuing new so-called Special Drawing Rights (SDRs) at the IMF to less developed countries, reversing another Trump position. AFP

Armed men storm school, kidnap 317 in Nigeria

KANO

GUNMEN abducted 317 girls from a boarding school in northern Nigeria on Friday, police said, the latest in a series of mass kidnappings of students in the violence-hit West African nation.

Police and the military have begun joint operations to rescue the girls after the attack at the Girls Science Secondary School in Jangebe town, according to a police spokesman in Zamfara state, Mohammed Shehu, who confirmed the number abducted.

One parent, Nasiru Abdullahi, told The Associated Press that his daughters, aged 10 and 13, are among the missing.

"It is disappointing that even though the military have a strong presence near the school they were unable to protect the girls," he said. "At this stage, we are only hoping on divine intervention."

Resident Musa Mustapha said the gunmen also attacked a nearby military camp and checkpoint, preventing soldiers from interfering while the gunmen spent several hours at the school. It was not immediately clear if there were any casualties. AFP

UK apex court rejects IS bride's bid to return and fight for citizenship

LONDON

Britain's highest court on Friday rejected a bid by a woman, who was stripped of her UK citizenship for joining the Islamic State group, to return to the country to challenge the decision.

Five judges of the Supreme Court gave a unanimous decision in the case of Shamima Begum, whose legal battles have come to be seen as a test of how Britain treats nationals who joined the jihadists.

They found her right to a fair hearing did not override considerations such as public safety, and that the decision to block her return should remain until she can participate "without the safety of the public being compromised".

A photo of Shamima Begum

"That is not a perfect solution, as it is not known how long it may be before that is possible," the head of the Supreme Court, judge Robert Reed, said. "But there is no perfect solution to a dilemma of the present kind."

British Prime Minister Boris Johnson's spokesman said the government was pleased with the ruling, telling reporters "decisions to deprive individuals of their citizenship are not taken lightly".

"The safety and security of the UK must come first," he added. Now 21, Begum left her home in east London at the age of 15 to travel to Syria with two school friends and married an IS fighter. Britain's then-interior minister Sajid Javid revoked her citizenship in 2019 on national security grounds. In 2019, Begum told The Times newspaper that she did not regret travelling to Syria and had not been "fazed" by seeing a severed head dumped in a bin. AFP

Blast hits Israel-owned ship leaving Saudi port

DUBAI

AN Israeli vessel apparently travelling from Saudi Arabia to Singapore was hit by an explosion in the Gulf of Oman, maritime security groups said Friday, adding there were no casualties.

The MV Helios Ray vehicle carrier "suffered an explosion within the Gulf of Oman", the Dryad Global maritime security group said.

The vessel was understood to have been travelling from Dammam, a port city in Saudi Arabia's Eastern Province, to Singapore when the blast occurred Thursday northwest of Oman, it said. "The crew are understood to be uninjured. The vessel appears to be returning to (its) port of origin," Dryad said.

United Kingdom Maritime Trade Operations also reported the blast and said the vessel, which it did not identify, and the crew were "safe".

The Marine Traffic website said the Bahamas-flagged vessel had left Dammam on Wednesday.

Dryad suggested Iran could be behind the blast, noting the incident comes amid heightened tensions between Israel and the Islamic republic.

"Whilst details regarding the incident remain unclear it remains a realistic possibility that the event was the result of asymmetric activity by Iranian military," it said. AP

US HOUSE PASSES EQUALITY ACT TO EXPAND LGBTQ RIGHTS

WASHINGTON

THE Democratic-led House of Representatives passed a bill on Thursday that would enshrine LGBTQ protections in the nation's labour and civil rights laws, which is a top priority for President Joe Biden. The bill passed by a vote of 224-206 with three Republicans joining Democrats in voting yes. The legislation faces an uphill battle in the Senate.

The Equality Act amends existing civil rights law to explicitly include sexual orientation and gender identification as protected characteristics.

The protections would extend to employment, housing, loan applications, education, public accommodations and other areas. Supporters say the law before the House on Thursday is long overdue and would ensure that every person is treated equally.

"The LGBT community has waited long enough," said Rep. David Cicilline, D-R.I., who is gay and the bill's lead sponsor. "The time has come to extend the blessings of liberty and equality to all of Americans regardless of who they are and who they love." Republicans broadly opposed the legislation. They echoed concerns from religious groups and social conservatives who worry the bill would force people to take actions that contradict their religious beliefs.

They warned that faith-based adoption agencies seeking to place children with a married mother and father could be forced to close, or that private schools would have to hire staff whose conduct violates tenets of the school's faith.

US House Speaker Nancy Pelosi

"This is unprecedented. It's dangerous. It's an attack on our first freedom, the first freedom listed in the Bill of Rights, religious liberty," said Rep. Mike Johnson.

The House passed the Equality Act in the last Congress with unanimous Democratic support and the backing of eight Republicans, but Donald Trump's White House opposed the measure and it was not considered in the Senate. AP

'Covid bill must drop minimum wage proposal'

WASHINGTON

A key US Senate official ruled on Thursday that President Joe Biden's $15 per hour minimum wage measure cannot be included in the huge Covid relief bill as written, imperiling Democratic efforts to fulfill a progressive priority.

The Senate parliamentarian told lawmakers that the minimum wage language is not eligible to be in the $1.9 trillion coronavirus package if Democrats seek to pass it through a filibuster-proof bill. The process, known as reconciliation, allows lawmakers to pass a budget-related bill with just a simple 51-vote majority in the 100-member chamber, rather than the 60 votes normally required for major legislation. Republicans in the evenly split Senate are largely opposed to the relief package, meaning Democrats would need to shelve the national minimum wage hike to $15 an hour from $7.25 if they want any chance at passing the Covid aid.

"President Biden is disappointed in this outcome, as he proposed having the $15 minimum wage as part of the American Rescue Plan," White House press secretary Jen Psaki said. AFP

'CINEMA IS MY IDENTITY'

...says Kiccha Sudeep as he speaks about his experiences of being associated with Bigg Boss Kannada, the eighth edition of which goes on air this weekend

PIC: NAGARAJA GADEKAL

EXPRESS FEATURES

THE year 2020 saw people across the world confined to their homes, spending time with near and dear ones. This might add a whole new meaning to reality show Bigg Boss season -- which will begin on Feb. 28 – where 17 strangers will spend the next 100 days under one roof.

Sudeep, who is back this weekend on the Bigg Boss show, says when he started with the first season, he had no idea how it would pan out.

"I have been associated with the show for the past seven seasons. With every season it not only continues to surprise the viewers but me also," says the host, who enjoyed the experience right from day one. Despite the number of years he has been associated with the show, Sudeep admits that he continues to have the same inquisitiveness every season. "I am curious about the names and the whole journey. However, one can't predict the trajectory of the participants," he says.

What is the difference between shooting and hosting Bigg Boss? "Shooting gives us a certain confirmation of what we should be doing. But while hosting a reality show, there's a lot of interaction and things are impromptu. My next move depends on what a contestant says or how he/she reacts. There is no room for preparation," he says.

Given a choice between shooting for a film and hosting, Sudeep says, "I like my life and whatever I am doing is my choice. Cinema is my identity, but Bigg Boss is very close to me. This show has seen me changing myself over the years. I have been a different person after it."

The 8th edition of Bigg Boss Kannada, hosted by Sudeep, will be aired at 9.30 pm on Colors Kannada, for the next couple of months. This time, owning to Covid-19, organising the Bigg Boss show has been very challenging, says Parameshwar Gundkal of Colors Kannada, adding that the participants and crew who will be entering the house this time have undergone Covid tests twice and are currently in quarantine.

Shooting gives us a certain confirmation of what we should be doing. But while hosting a reality show, there's a lot of interaction and things are impromptu. My next move depends on what a contestant says or how he/she reacts — Sudeep, actor

Running Positive may have missed crossing the finish line at the Oscars, but the film's team plans to continue encouraging HIV positive youngsters to take up sports

SANATH PRASAD

Running away from a problem may not make it disappear but for Babu Seenappa, it does help bring about some sense of normalcy. The 20-year-old is HIV positive and finds that besides medicines, running is just as effective in fighting his condition. "When I run for a marathon, I don't realise that I am suffering from a virus," says Seenappa, who along with Manik Prabhu, is the star of Running Positive, a documentary that was submitted for Oscars 2021. The 39-minute long film – which shows how these two youngsters who are HIV positive represented India at international marathons and at the United Nations – has been helmed by Kannada filmmaker Jacob Varghese and produced by Elvis Joseph, founder of Bangalore Sports School Foundation (BSSF).

Although the film didn't clear the nomination process, Varghese says, "Not making it to the Oscars is a disappointment but I believe there are also other international film festivals that can take the story to a much larger audience." Joseph adds, "This is the only sports documentary to be submitted to Oscars without being previously screened in any other international film festivals."

Through BSSF, Joseph is spearheading the project 'Champion In Me', which aims to empower youngsters like Seenappa and Prabhu with sports-based solutions. The documentary starts in Bengaluru in 2015 and chronicles a series of marathons the boys participated in, spanning five continents and 12 countries, like the Boston Marathon in 2018, Bangkok International 10k run 2018, Nelson Mandela Marathon, South Africa 2019, and so on. "We train and participate in marathons just like any other individual. I run 3 km daily and I remember the virus only while taking tablets," says Manik, who hails from Bidar and is completing his B.Com in Tamil Nadu. Shedding a light on their training, Seenappa explains how in the initial days, it left them feeling exhausted. "But over time, we gained endurance and immunity, because of which I can even train now for two to three hours continuously," says the Hoskote-born youngster who is pursuing his Bachelor's in social work.

Grammy-award winner Ricky Kej, who scored the music for the documentary, says, "Running Positive is an emotional and inspiring story with a social message. I just worked with the director's vision."

While the film has been in the making for five years, from 2015 to 2020, efforts to spread the film's message will continue. Joseph adds, "It is important to share the story and set a precedent to encourage other infected youngsters to take up sports."

Transport yourself to the Indian desert state with this upcoming performance by folk singer Fakira Khan

Rhythm of Rajasthan

MONIKA MONALISA

Listening to music involves one's ears but if you ask folk artist Fakira Khan about his music, he says, "Folk music carries the smell of Rajasthan." It's almost impossible to think of this Indian desert state without remembering its music. Now, Khan and his troupe – Fakir Kheta Group – will give Bengalureans a taste of this with a performance at The Courtyard on Feb. 28.

Originally hailing from Barmer, Rajasthan, Khan belongs to the Manganhar, a Muslim community known for its sufi music. "People get confused about our religious beliefs. We are born into Muslim households but live like Hindus. Our music is the only treasure we possess. We are proud that we are called to sing for all occasions, be it weddings, births and death ceremonies," says Khan.

Khan started singing at the age of five. "We don't have the concept of formal training," he says with laugh. "As a young boy, I used to accompany my father to his performances and that was my training," he adds.

A child prodigy, Khan has shared stage with music legends like Pandit Bhim Sen Joshi, Zakir Hussain, among others. He has also sung for movies like Lagaan, Nayak, etc. "As a teenager in the early '90s, I was performing with those who had extensive experience. This exposed me to world music and helped me see the world in a different light," says Khan, who holds a place in the Guinness Book of World Records for having presented more than 1,000 events in 300 major cities in 103 countries.

Although not his first visit to Bengaluru, Khan loves coming back to the city. "People here are open to understanding different music genres. Artistes are well respected," says Khan, adding that although a folk artiste, he loves Carnatic music too. "The feel of both the genres is different, but they both touch the soul," says Khan.

The event will take place at 10am at The Courtyard on Feb. 28. For details visit InstaMojo

NADI SHODHANA PRANAYAMA

(ALTERNATE NOSTRIL BREATHING)

In Sanskrit, Nadi means 'channel,' shodhana means 'cleaning' or 'purifying,' prana means 'vital life force,' yama means 'control,' ayama means 'exension' or 'expansion.' It is also called 'channel cleaning breathing'. It is an excellent breathing technique that calms the mind, body and emotions. It helps to harmonise the hemispheres of the brain, balancing the logical and emotional sides of the practitioner's personality. It helps ground the practitioner before meditation. If it is difficult to settle into the meditation, a few rounds of this breathing technique should help the practitioner find their focus. It is the first pranayama described in the classical yogic texts.

STEPS

- First, you can sit relaxed with a gentle smile on your face. Keep your shoulder loose and spine straight. Place the left hand on your left knee. Your palm should be open towards the sky or in chin mudra.
- Then, put your middle and index finger between eyebrows. Also, keep your thumb on the right side of the nostril and little finger and ring finger on the left nostril.
- For opening and closing of the left nostril, ring finger and little finger can be used. Use the thumb for right nostril.
- By pressing your right nostril with the thumb, exhale through the left nostril.
- After breathing in through the left side, press your left nostril gently with the ring and little finger.
- Now, exhale from the right side by releasing the thumb.
- Then, breathe in from the right side and exhale from the left nostril. Now, you have completed the first round of Pranayama.
- This way, keep breathing through alternate nostrils.

JANIN KANNOTH

Whether you prefer the bold taste of whiskey, the sweeter notes of bourbon, or the smooth finish of gin, we've got the right pairing for it when it comes to Indian food. The best part about Indian cuisine is that it's so varied, it lends itself to a multitude of spirits. While people often assume beer or wine is the best companion to any kind of Indian food (and with good reason – a chilled drink and some spicy biryani, anyone?), the truth is that there are far more suitable pairings than we realise. Curious to know more? Here are my quick tips:

1. The classic single malts pair very well with more delicate Indian starters like malai kebabs and daki ke kebabs. Peated whiskey, on the other hand, complements more robust flavours, like chargrilled and barbequed tandoori food. Single malt oak sometimes contains spices like cinnamon or honey, which also lend themselves beautifully to more mild dishes.
2. Thanks to its bold flavour profile, dark rum is a match made in heaven with similarly spicy Indian curries. Whether it's a chicken vindaloo or a paneer tikka masala, there's nothing quite like washing it down with some spiced rum – or a sweeter version when required.
3. Pairing gin with aromatic and mildly spiced coastal Indian dishes is always a good bet. Serve a traditional gassi dish alongside a gin-based cocktail, and you've got yourself a winner.
4. White meat – seafood and poultry – goes beautifully alongside vodka. Red meat, on the other hand, pairs well with good highland blended scotches.
5. Bourbon, which has slightly sweet notes, is always a good companion for Indian desserts. Pair a creamy kulfi with a shot of bourbon - or a tart bourbon cocktail - and you just can't go wrong. More and more menus across the country are seeing the addition of bourbon in their desserts as well. You can see the same happening with rum too, with variations having toffee, caramel, and other similar spices.
6. Overall, white spirits are always a good bet when it comes to Indian cuisine because they tend to be mild and don't have a dominant flavor. In turn, they help highlight the predominant spice in the dish, so you can't really go wrong.

Plant protein intake may help cut premature death risk in women

Consuming high levels of plant protein may lower the risk of premature death, cardiovascular disease and dementia-related death in older women, says a new study. The study indicated that postmenopausal women with the highest amount of plant protein intake had a 9 per cent lower risk of death from all causes, a 12 per cent lower risk of death from cardiovascular disease and a 21 per cent lower risk of dementia-related death. "Our findings support the need to consider dietary protein sources in future dietary guidelines," said researcher Wei Bao from the University of Iowa in the US. - IANS

'THE STRENGTH OF HERO IS ITS HEROINE'

...says Ganavi Laxman who talks about her debut film directed by Bharath Raj M, and working with Rishab Shetty in the fun-filled action thriller to release on March 5

A SHARADHAA

Ganavi Laxman, who caught the attention of Kannada audience in director TN Seetharam's teleserial, Magalu Janaki, has taken a leap to the silver screen. She will be seen in M Bharath Raj's Hero, in which she is stars opposite Rishab Shetty. The actor, who is making her debut soon, was always clear about her interest in films. However, the journey has been far from easy. "I have seen a lot of downs before coming here. With Hero, I hope to go to the next level," says Ganavi, who has worked in a film titled Bhava Chitra, which is yet to see its release.

Having grown up in a hostel, where access to television was limited, she was involved in every art form, dance, music, art...you name it, she was doing it. It was her teacher, Vivek Vijay Kumar from Our Theatre, who encouraged her further. However, a series of rejection post auditions, she was almost going to give up even before making an entry. "That's when my entry to the small screen happened with Magalu Janaki. That was my last try, and when I was offered the character, I felt like it was tailor-made for me. I took it up as a challenge" says Ganavi, who has been particular to pick up projects that allow her to perform, and feels that Hero gave her that scope.

Paired opposite Rishab Shetty, Ganavi recalls how she was rejected for Kirik Party which was Rishab's directorial project. "I was rejected for the role because I was told that I looked too mature for it. Instead, I was offered a friend's role to play. I didn't take that rejection too well, because I always prided myself on my talent, including dancing skills. But at the same time, the rejected kept me grounded, and helped me learn acceptance," she says, adding "At that time, I looked at myself in the mirror and said that one day I will be accepted as a heroine Today, I am glad to be associating with Rishab Shetty for Hero."

A still from Hero

Not being a trained artiste meant a lot of homework for Ganavi who came to realise that there's much difference between dancing and acting.

"I cherish the experience with Hero which was done during the lockdown and this will stay in my memory for a long time. I was signed for his other film, Nathuram, which didn't go on floors, and he ended up offering me this project. When I entered Hero, I felt like I was in a different world. I told myself that this was my chance to prove my mettle," she says.

Ask Ganavi the importance of a heroine in a film that which is titled Hero, and she says, "Behind the sparks seen in a hero, lies the strength of the heroine," says the actor, who reveals a line about her character. "Hero brings out different facets of a woman, from the time she makes a transition from a girl to a woman, the love she experiences, marriage and other emotions," she says.
